Ike Doubtful on Possibility Of Meeting With Malenkov

Dean To Try New Tack on Korea Talks

Special U.S. Envoy Foresees Possibility of Setting Up Conference

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. special envoy Arthur Dean tomorrow will offer the Communists a new formula for setting up a Korean peace conference. Today he said "there is a possibility we are going to work something out."

Dean's optimistic prediction followed the third session of preliminary talks to plan a Korean political conference. There was no noticeable progress at the 2 hour and 40 minute meeting.

Charges Active Support

The Communist delegate insisted in a 2,500-word statement that Russia be seated at the peace conference as a neutral.

Dean said he replied that Russia logically should attend the conference—and sit with Red China and North Korea — since Communist armies in Korea "were equipped with planes, tanks, guns and munitions sent from the Soviet Union."

"The Soviet Union has openly supported your side by word and deed," Dean declared. "The U.S.S.R. has thus played a direct role in the Korean hostilities."

The U. S. envoy, who represents the U. N., also reiterated that he had no authority under the United Nations resolution approving the preliminary talks to negotiate on composition of the top-level conference.

North Korean Delegate Ki Sok Bok branded the U. N. resolution as "completely illegal."

Dean is authorized only to set a time and place.

'Preliminary Skirmishes'

"I still think these are only preliminary skirmishes and there is still a possibility we are going to work something out of these preliminary talks," he told newsmen after the meeting.

"It seems to me I can detect an attitude of interest on their part and that they really want to come to some conclusion on this matter."

Of his new offer to the Reds, he said:

"I plan to propose a formula to them tomorrow to see if we can't get to work on a time and place first."

Even though he made it clear he is unable to negotiate on who shall attend a Korean peace conference, Wednesday's session was devoted to talking of little else.

Dean said of repeated Communist assertions that Russia is a neutral:

"We cannot accept this suggestion seriously or indeed believe that you put it forward seriously. It is really very funny."

Accuses Reds

In his opening statement, Dean accused the Reds of moving from a discussion of an agenda to arguing items on the agenda—specifically the Red demand that neutral nations participate in the peace conference.

"This action is arbitrary on two counts," he said. "It involves a unilateral determination of the agenda by your side as the official agenda of this meeting. It also involves a unilateral choice of one item in that agenda as the primary interest and subject of first importance."

Cost of Living Rises Seventh Month in Row

Government Report Cites Higher Prices for Clothing, Rent, Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, pushed upward mainly by higher rents, clothing costs and medical expenses, set another new record last month, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics announced that its consumer price index reached 115.2 in mid-September, a rise of two-tenths of 1 per cent over the record August level.

Seventh Straight

This was the seventh straight monthly increase.

The index is a composite average of retail prices paid by the American household for basic goods and services as compared with 1947-1949.

The bureau said a decline in retail food prices between August and September was not enough to offset higher prices for all other types of consumer goods and services.

Was 115 Month Ago

A month ago, the BLS index for mid-August was reported at 115. That meant that the average American householder was paying $1.15 in mid-August for the same basic items and services he bought for an average of $1 in the 1947-49 base period.

A new advance today would be the eighth monthly one in succession. The index figures for the past few months, all given on a 1947-49 basis: March 113.6, April 113.7, May 114, June 114.5, July 114.7, August 115.

Other Factors

Federal rent controls died at the end of July in some 1,400 communities throughout the nation. The BLS index covering the period from mid-July to mid-August did not reflect the full impact of rent increases which followed.

There have also been new rises in gasoline prices and the cost of public transportation.

No major labor union contracts are geared to this month's BLS index.

Ex-Policeman Ready To Face Federal Jury

Lt. Shoulders, Cabbie To Testify in Ransom Hearing at St. Louis

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A federal grand jury today awaited testimony from a veteran officer who broke the Greenlease kidnaping case and later quit his force in anger over a police board inquiry.

The officer, Louis Shoulders, arrested Carl Austin Hall, who confessed the kidnap-slaying of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

A top-level St. Louis police inquiry into Shoulders' handling of the case brought his resignation. He claimed the investigation destroyed his reputation as an officer after 7 years on the force.

Cabbie To Testify

Another witness waiting to testify was John Hager, St. Louis taxicab driver. He gave Shoulders a tip that helped bring the arrest in St. Louis of Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41-year-old divorcee who aided Hall in the kidnaping.

The grand jury was expected to return indictments against both Hall and Mrs. Heady. The hearing was opened yesterday.

Robert C. Greenlease, 71-year-old multimillionaire father of Bobby, was among yesterday's witnesses before the jury. He told newsmen only that he "had identified some things."

Greenlease paid a record $600,000 ransom, approximately half of which was recovered. Hall claimed he lost the remaining $300,000 during a drinking spree in St. Louis.

Driver's Story

Hager, who picked up Hall as a fare, told newsmen last night he didn't think the missing $300,000 ever got to St. Louis.

"Whenever I was around Hall he never seemed to be in the condition where he could be rolled (money taken from him) without his knowledge," Hager said. He said Hall had two suitcases in the motel room in which he was arrested.

"When we took the money out of the room I carried one suitcase down to Shoulders' car and put it in there and Shoulders carried the other one," he said.

POW Killing Brings New Red Charges

Communists Claim Prisoners Tortured; 15 Are Reported Dead

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The chairman of the Korean repatriation commission said today three Korean and Chinese prisoners have been slain by fellow POWs in a camp for anti-Communists in Korea's neutral zone.

Fifteen other prisoners have died —10 of natural causes, it was announced. Three were shot to death by Indian guards during demonstrations, one apparently committed suicide and another died of starvation, the report said.

Nine of the dead were Koreans and nine Chinese.

Torture Charged

The Communists have charged bitterly in propaganda broadcasts and in letters to Indian custodial troops that South Korean and Chinese Nationalist agents in the camp tortured and murdered prisoners who wanted to return home. The Reds demanded that the murderers be found and punished.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said the Indians had not discovered the persons who committed the three murders.

"We can't find out why any of the captives were killed," he said.

Thimayya said one prisoner had his upper legs crushed, another was near starvation before his death, and one had been badly beaten and his body thrown out of the compound by fellow prisoners.

Dispute Not Discussed

The Indian general reported the murders after a meeting of the NNRC, which is deadlocked over whether to use force to make reluctant North Korean prisoners attend interviews with Communist representatives. He said the dispute on explanations was not discussed. Instead, the Swiss, Swedes, Czechs, Poles and Indians on the commission discussed methods of investigating the prisoner slayings.

Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, head of the United Nations Command repatriation group, wrote the Indian command today that he was unable to find sufficient evidence to verify an NNRC assertion that an Allied officer had called a Polish officer a foul name during explanation interviews Oct. 17.

But Hamblen said, a U.N. representative has been relieved "from duties for failure" to meet the standards of the Allied command.

New Russian Hint Brings Quick Reply

Would Be Perfectly Hopeless Unless Reds Have Honest Purpose

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today it would be perfectly hopeless for him to take part in a meeting with Soviet Premier Malenkov unless he knows Russia has an honest purpose for such a meeting.

He added that Russia could show such honesty in any of a hundred ways.

The President's news conference statement was in response to questions about a new Russian hint that Premier Malenkov may be ready for peace talks with the Western chiefs of state.

Repeats Pledge

The President also repeated what he has said before—that regardless of handicaps or inconvenience he would do anything in the world he thought would advance the cause of peace.

He qualified that again by saying there must be an indication it would produce results in good faith.

The President also told reporters:

1. United States economic aid to Israel will be resumed since Israel has agreed to suspend work on a hydro-electric power program which Arab neighbors charged would divert Jordan River water to their injury.

Israel announced yesterday it would hold up the project while the United Nations Security Council debates the issue.

Eisenhower said he was delighted by this decision. He did not say just when aid to Israel would be resumed.

No Plan To Cut Forces

2. There exists no plan of any kind for reducing the armed forces of the United States anywhere.

3. It is conceivable that he will make some general statement urging the election of a Republican Congress next year, or even that he may give an incidental pat-on-the-back to some individual candidates. But he reiterated a previous stand that he will not go into any state or congressional district to campaign.

4. He hopes and believes cattle prices have reached the bottom and are on the way back up. In that connection, the President said only a future drought or other crisis would justify calling a special session of Congress to deal with the farm problem.

5. When he shook hands with Paul Troast, Republican candidate for governor of New Jersey, on a recent visit to Atlantic City, he had never heard of Joseph Fay, the imprisoned union official whose release Troast has sought in a

Offer Pacifies Arabs

Israel Move Eases Holy Land Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Straining tensions over the hot Palestine dispute eased a notch today after Israel suddenly offered to hold up her Jordan River hydroelectric project while the U.N. Security Council debates the issue. The move won quick commendation from both the Arabs and the United States.

The council postponed until tomorrow its Palestine hearings to give the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee a chance to resume debate on American charges that the Russians ran a torture center to extort germ warfare "confessions" from captured American airmen.

To Offer More Evidence

U.N. informants said the United States was prepared to present further evidence "of a more effective nature" to support her charges.

Israel's chief U. N. delegate, Abba Eban, made the surprise offer yesterday to suspend work on diverting the waters of the Jordan as the council debated Syria's complaint that the project deprived the Arabs of water for irrigation and breached the Arab-Jewish armistice.

Lebanon's Dr. Charles Malik, sole Arab League delegate on the council, voiced gratitude for Israel's "conciliatory gesture" and congratulated Eban for making it.

U.N. circles said the Israeli compromise gesture might serve to cool off the boiling Palestine dispute, which has roused fear in Washington and London that an open Israeli-Arab break was near.

Arabs Welcome Offer

These circles said Lebanon's warm response to the offer indicated that the Arabs, too, were anxious to see things calm down.

Israel also received praise from Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who was reported to have urged Eban to make the offer in hopes it would ease tensions.

The council unanimously noted the Israeli offer and asked the U.N. truce supervision commission to see whether it was carried out.

Eban made his announcement after the U.N. truce supervisor, Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, warned the council that open war threatened in Palestine unless the armistice agreements were followed to the letter.

Bennike, summoned here at U.S. behest, to report on the grave situation, said the spark which might touch off the Palestine powder keg was the Kibya, Jordan, raid, labeled by the MXixed Armistice Commission as "cold-blooded murder" of more than 50 Arabs by Israeli forces.

"They indicated that tension had increased to the breaking point, either locally in a particular area, or perhaps generally between the two countries," Bennike said.

The United States recently imposed a ban on virtually all economic aid to Israel after that nation defied the U.N. ruling that it stop work on the Jordan River project.

Water Break Fixed; Service To Be Restored

Complete repair of the break in the water main, which caused a disruption of normal service to Marion Tuesday, was expected by noon today, according to L. Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co.

Porter said a break in the pipe rather than a blown valve had been found upon complete investigation of the trouble spot. The break was located in the 24-inch main which leads to the city.

At 11 a.m. today, the broken pipe had been replaced and workers were in the process of securing the last joint to the main line.

He said the valve which could not be closed Tuesday, causing a drop in water pressure in the city most of the day, had been found to have a broken stem. He said this valve, along with the broken pipe was being repaired.

A pool of water, gushing from the broken pipe had to be drained before men could determine the exact cause of the leak. Porter also said the pipe replacement seemed thicker than any they had had before at the plant, and took longer to cut.

The break occurred at 4:15 Tuesday morning. By 5:15, water had been diverted along the supplementary 16-inch main and service returned to near normal. However, at 7 a.m., when factories in town opened, the water pressure dropped.

Porter said he expected a return to use of the 24-inch main early this afternoon. Water company employes worked around the clock Tuesday.

Lingerie Chief Clue in Baby Sitter Assault

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—A teenager's lingerie—perhaps Evelyn Hartley's, maybe stained with her blood—was the chief clue today in the disappearance of the youngster from a baby-sitting job Saturday night.

A white brassiere and panties, of a size worn by the 15-year-old girl "who never went out with boys because she thought she was too young," bore stains which Dist. Atty. John Brossard told newsmen last night "could be blood."

"They have not been identified conclusively as Evelyn's," Brossard said, "but her parents tell us she wore things like that and that they were the right size. We have sent them to the state crime laboratory at Madison for analysis."

The underclothing was found yesterday on the Burlington Railroad right of way beneath a highway overhead two miles southeast of La Crosse.

"It looked like they might have been thrown from a car and blown under the bridge," Brossard said.

Simultaneously, with word of the clothing discovery, Brossard told of what he called "a large amount of blood" on a highway about 12 miles south of where the lingerie was found. The search will be intensified in that area.

Ike, Senate's Leader Draft GOP Meeting

Party Heads To Meet To Formulate New Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Sen. Knowland (R—Calif.) today drafted plans for a late November or early December meeting with Republican congressional leaders on the administration's new legislative program.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters: "We are going to continue the cooperation, the teamwork, between the administration and Congress."

He said there will be full consultation with Republican leaders of Senate and House in advance of the submission of a legislative program to the next session of Congress in January. Later on, he said, Democratic leaders will be consulted on some specific questions as well as chairmen of interested congressional committees.

At his breakfast conference with the President this morning, Knowland said, there was no discussion of specific issues. If Vice President Nixon is back from his current world tour, Knowland said, he will sit in on the November or December huddle at the White House.

Asked whether he expects the GOP to continue to control the Senate organization, in the light of even balance of power between Republicans and Democrats, Knowland replied: "Yes, I certainly do."

Weather Remains Cloudy and Damp

By The Associated Press

Cloudy and wet weather prevailed over most of the eastern half of the country today but it was fair and pleasant in most areas west of the Mississippi River.

Rain was general early today from New England southward along the Middle Atlantic coast. Light rain also fell in sections of the middle Mississippi Valley, while there was a drizzle in the Great Lakes and much of the Ohio Valley.

United Appeals Drive Enters Closing Stages

Coming down the home stretch are salesmen and saleswomen in the 1953-54 Marion County United Appeals Campaign to raise $170,462 by Thursday night. Results of the campaign, which got under way Oct. 12, will be posted at a "dutch treat" dinner Thursday night at the YMCA.

Approximately $64,000 remained to be raised after the reports were in at the second report meeting last Monday night. Pledges and contributions amounting to $106,537 were turned in by the workers, topping the amount chalked up at the second report meeting in last year's campaign by more than $8,000.

"Let's not miss one prospect, one pledge, one dollar by quitting before our job is finished" is today's message of Chairman Cutler A. McGrew. He urges "call back" on contributors who were out of the city or otherwise not contacted in order that everyone will have an opportunity to give to this worthy cause and help make the campaign a victory for Marion County.

Anyone who has not been contacted and who wishes to contribute is asked to call the campaign headquarters, 3-1968 or 3-2654, and a worker will call for the gift.

Life in State Prison Begun By Schinagle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roy Roger Schinagle entered Ohio Penitentiary at 11:30 a.m., today to begin serving a life sentence for the slaying of his college sweetheart, Cynthia Pfeil.

The 19-year-old Mayfield Heights youth entered the old stone prison in custody of Wyandot County Sheriff Dean McAllister and Deputy Sheriff Emerson Hogan.

Schinagle, who pleaded guilty last Saturday to a second-degree murder charge, will be eligible for parole after 10 years.

The former Ohio Wesleyan University student posed for photographers as he entered the prison, then moved immediately to a prisoner's cage where his processing will begin. Warden Ralph W. Alvis said if Schinagle wants a job in the prison he can have it after the usual procedure of medical and mental tests, which takes several weeks. He'll be assigned a number tomorrow.

Schinagle confessed slaying Cynthia of White Plains, N. Y., on the night of Sept. 17. Her body was left in a patch of woods near Upper Sandusky, clothed only in a nightgown and a pair of red shoes. Schinagle was taken into custody at Delaware several days later.

Home Rule Charter Plan Gains Favor Over Nation

This is the fourth in a series explaining the Home Rule Charter Question which will be voted upon in Marion in next Tuesday's election.

By CHARLES L. MARTIN

Among the various forms of city government possible in the United States is the mayor-council plan which has a variation called the "strong" mayor-council type.

Although some 15 per cent of all cities discarded this form of government between 1917 and 1949 it is still the most common of all forms of municipal government. It is the form which has been used in Marion since first adopted in 1902.

Before continuing with the discussion of the various forms of municipal government possible under a charter, however, it seems well to repeat that voters will not be balloting next Tuesday for an immediate change in city government.

Next Tuesday's vote, if affirmative, will serve only to set up a commission which will study the alternative plans for a year and submit its recommendations to the electorate for approval or rejection in the 1954 fall election.

The mayor-council plan generally has the following main characteristics: 1. A city council with committees delving into details. 2. An elected mayor. 3. Most administrative heads largely elected.

'Whale of a Problem'

Knowland Admits Farm Situation Bothers GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) saying Republicans cannot afford politically to discount farm discontent, declared today the GOP faces "a whale of a big problem" in drafting a new agriculture program.

And Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said in a separate interview that unless the Republicans come up soon with plans "to meet the crisis in agriculture" President Eisenhower ought to call a special session of Congress.

Due for Questioning

The President scheduled today a news conference at which he faced questioning about farm policy matters.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he and other GOP congressional chieftains expect to sit in with Eisenhower and Cabinet members on the formation of the administration's program to be laid before Congress in January.

Warning Signal

The California senator wouldn't commit himself in advance on expected demands in Congress for continuance of fixed, high-level price supports for major field crops.

But he said discontent over farm price declines evidently was reflected in the election of a Democrat in Wisonsin's traditionally Republican 9th Congressional District two weeks ago.

"I don't think Republicans can

Broadway Rehearsal as Good as Show

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— A Broadway rehearsal often is as interesting as the show itself.

Want to see one? Well, let's go: You clump up three flights of stairs in an old side street building—the elevator works only during every other leap year — and walk into a dingy rehearsal room. Its walls are rusty red, its windows dusty. In show business they don't put on the tinsel until the curtain goes up.

Little waves of sound ripple and break in chaos as a dozen actors run through their lines like magpies. Most are dressed as casually as if they were a bunch of high school kids at the beach.

See anyone you know? Oh, yes, those three glamorous looking girls —the Gabor sisters, Magda, Zsa Zsa and Eva. And that bouncing pigeon-chested, rubber - faced gal in the gray sweat shirt, blue jeans and red slippers — Martha Raye. She was seriously ill a year ago. Today she's back in the $18,000 a show bracket.

That fellow who looks like a piano mover, the one with the wire hair and the broken nose—could it be Rocky Graziano, the celebrated actor and ex-middleweight champ? It is.

They are all here for the opening rehearsal of Saturday's NBC - TV All-Star Revue. They are relaxed as rubber bands now. The tension and tears will come later in the week.

"Martha plays the long lost ugly duckling sister of the Gabor girls," explains a man leaning against the wall, "and Rocky is her boy friend. It's a scream."

Miss Raye bounces around the room like a tennis ball. She muffs a line, grimaces, the cast laughs.

"She puts out as much in rehearsals as she does on the show itself," says the man, "and when the show is over she always throws a big party for everybody in the cast. Everybody—not just the big shots."

Nick Condos, her manager and ex-husband, holds up a roll of $20 bills. Martha bounces over yelling, "Gimme, gimme!"

"It's not for you," says Nick. "Holding up dough is the only way I can catch your eye. Say 'hello' to these people."

"Hello," says Martha, makes a futile grab for the roll of bills, wrinkles her face and skips away.

In sweeps a stylish woman of well - preserved charm. This is Mama Gabor herself. Her three daughters rush over, Clinch, Clinch, Clinch. The four erupt in Gaborese —a mixture of English, Hungarian, French and German intelligible only to themselves.

Someone else is playing the role of Mama Gabor in the show, but in five minutes mama is trying to take over. She tells the director that if the actress is going to really look like her she should wear a monocle. The director is polite—but unconvinced.

Rocky Graziano wanders over. Mama Gabor, who wouldn't know him from Jack Dempsey, beckons imperiously and says:

"Where are the dress designs, Mr. Capone?"

Graziano looks stupefied, then snaps his fingers at a fellow holding the designs.

"Thank you, Mr. Capone," says Mama Gabor sweetly.

"She shouldn't call me that—I jump whenever I even hear that name," grumbled Rocky. "Anyway, I ask you—do I look like a dress designer?"

Rocky confides he finds acting easier than boxing, but that he still prefers fighting, "on account I was born a fighter. It took me a half hour to learn how to act.

"I and Jake Lamotta did a little boxing the last time we played with Martha," he says, grinning, "and guess what? Two Broadway creeps tried to get me to throw the show."

Rocky says he has just sold an apartment house and wants to move to Miami.

"Anybody who don't like Miami is broke," he observes cheerfully. He eyes the bounding figure of Miss Raye and adds admiringly:

"If she don't work, she gets sick. She's got energy to throw away. With the right training she'd of made a good pug."

But as we leave, Martha sits on the edge of a chair for a moment. She glances over at the three beautiful Gabor sisters chattering with their mother, and over her face there steals that wistful look that clowns and kings wear when they see something that they themselves may never be.

HEAR BEDELL SMITH

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith told a Chamber of Commerce banquet here last night that the world situation is "complex and menacing" and that Western Europe has twice the armed strength it had in 1951. He spoke at a banquet in wich the Canton C. of C.'s man-of-the-year award was given to Edgar Jones, 45, a lawyer.

New Oberlin Auditorium To Be Dedicated

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Oberlin College, dedicating a $1,200,000 auditorium, will award doctor of laws degrees Saturday to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R—Ohio) and two Aluminum Co. of America executives.

Te two executives, both from the firm which was the source of a large part of the college's endowment, are board chairman Arthur V. Davis and Roy A. Hunt, chairman of the firm's executive committee.

Named in honor of Soparenia Brooks Hall, the new 422-seat building is the present of her son, the late Charles M. Hall, an Oberlin graduate who discovered the modern process for manufacture of aluminum.

Hall was one of Alcoa's founders. His gifts to the college are valued today at 20 million dollars.

At the dedication, degrees of Doctor of Humane Letters will go to Grove Patterson, editor-in-chief of the Toledo Blade and a former Oberlin trustee, and to Paul G. Hoffman, Ford Foundation president.

Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, radio minister, will receive a Doctor of Divinity degree and actor Edward Everett Horton will get a Doctor of Letters degree. Horton was once a student at the old Oberlin Academy.

To the new structure's architect, Wallace K. Harrison, will go a Doctor of Fine Arts degree.

NAMED IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Building Trades Employers Assn. last night named city service director Samuel F. David as its executive manager. David, 53, has been service director since 1951 and will complete his term of office Nov. 9.

Benson Says Farmers Must Increase Efficiency

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson says American farmers must "increase efficiency, improve quality and lower costs in their production and marketing" if they are to meet future national demands.

Benson said in a statement sent to a conference of adult education yesterday that "the American farmer today is the best informed farmer in the world." He added:

"We need, and must have, even more widespread adult education in the fields of marketing and research, farm and home planning, housing and health, plus greater opportunities for rural youths, and for the families of our marginal farms. . ."

'Big Steel' Is Operating at Full Capacity

NEW YORK (AP)—United States Steel Corp is racing along at 100 per cent of its theoretical 1953 capacity and producing steel at an annual rate better than it did in any of the World War II years

Board Chairman Benjamin F. Fairless expressed confidence yesterday that the full capacity operations would continue for the rest of this year, and keep at 95 per cent for the first quarter of 1954

The world's biggest steel producer disclosed these highlights of its nine-month record after the meeting of the Board of Directors for the third quarter

Its net income for the third quarter soared to a 37 year high for such a period which is normally pretty low The earnings for the July - August - September period were $61 705 264 or $2 12 a share—greatest third quarter income since the 1916 high of $69 601 175, equal to $2 42 a share

An all time record was hit in shipments of steel products during the first nine months this year with a total of 18 951 123 tons The previous record nine-month total was 18 344 497 tons in 1951

The corporation's net income for the first nine months of this year boomed to $166 723 028, or $5 66 a share as compared with $96 158 606 or $2 96 a share for the like period of 1952

INVESTIGATE SHOOTING

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Betty Fonner Washington County home demonstration agent, and Kenneth Ackerman, associate county agent are of a mind that some days it just doesn't pay to leave the Court house They walked out the door yesterday and into buckshot barrage They weren't hurt seriously but they would like to know what the shooting was all about And so would the police who say only, 'We're investigating.'

Canner's Process Resists Radiation

WATERTOWN, Mass (UP) — Gennaro Capaldi 51 has developed a secret canning process to protect food and medical supplies against atomic radiation and germ warfare

The Watertown food manufacturer turned his invention over to the U S Navy which is conducting further experiments he said

His "atom resistant food package" consists of individual cans packed with a special vacuum process inside and ouer heat-proof container The package contains soup ravioli hard-boiled eggs an anti-shock drink of glucose and a collapsible stove

Capaldi said the food in the container is guaranteed to last 20 years

An adaptation of the container, he said contains blood plasma, X-ray equipment and other medical supplies needed in event of a disaster

Capaldi an Italian immigrant said he got the idea for his process after the New England hurricane of 1938 in which great quantities of food were destroyed

Trial Set for 14 Charged With Contempt

Ohioans Face Action In Franklin County On Communist Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Franklin County Prosecutor Frank Kearns says 14 persons will go on trial for contempt of the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission beginning Nov. 16.

His announcement yesterday followed indictment of seven persons for refusing to answer questions asked by the commission. They, and seven indicted previously, claimed protection of the Fifth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution which says a person does not have to testify against himself in criminal cases.

Franklin County Common Pleas Judge William C. Bryant recently ruled commission witnesses cannot take refuge in that amendment because it does not apply to state agencies.

Indicted yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Goerge D. Pappas, Columbus; Marston A. Hamlin, Columbus; Vassell Tanel, Dayton; Harry McGill, Dayton; and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hupman, Clarksville.

Pappas was a graduate assistant in the O.S.U. zoology and entomology department; his wife was a clerk at the university. Hamlin was a fine arts instructor.

Thanel is a United Electric Workers (UE) field organizer. McGill was identified as a Frigidaire Corp. employe and Hupman is a grocer. Both McGill and Hupman were members of the UE.

Kearns said he also intends to bring these persons to trial:

Mrs. Anna H. Morgan, Robert E. Lee Terrill, David Jackson and Oscar Smilack, all of Columbus; Philip Frankfeld and Andrew Remes, both of Cleveland; and Mrs Mildred Hamilton, Youngstown.

Hupman was tried recently in Dayton on charges of lying when he filled out a non-Communist union affidavit. No verdict was reached. He is to be tried again in Cincinnati Jan. 5.

ICC Reverses Decision On Railway Rate Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission reversed itself today and authorized a large group of railroads to impose special service charges for checking the baggage of train travelers.

The fee will be 25 cents for each piece of hand luggage and 50 cents for each trunk.

The authority for these charges went to railroads operating in the South, in the central portion of the country and in the east, exclusive of New England

Scouter Halloween Party Set Tonight

The annual Halloween party for adults in the Harding Area Council of the Boy Scouts will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the dining hall of Camp Owens. All adults registered in Scouting, their wives and families are invited to attend the party.

A covered dish dinner at 7 p.m. will begin activities. This will be followed by a square dance for adults and a children's program for those under 11 years of age. Refreshments will be served after the dance.

Dr. A. J. Wagner, chairman of the camping activities committee, is in charge of the dinner. Harold Carroll, member of the camping activities committee, is in charge of decorations. Refreshments are being handled by John Teetor, neighborhood commissioner, and Herbert Kerszke of Mt. Gilead is in charge of prizes.

Old clothes and costumes are the uniform of the day for the party.

The State Amendments

There are nine proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot this year.

The way to keep track of them is to remember that No. 1 and No. 2 require decisions. Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 are housecleaning moves to clean up the state constitution and require nothing but an automatic yes-vote.

Proposed Amendment No 1 would let Ohio float a half-billion-dollar bond issue for highway improvement on "major thoroughfares and urban extensions." Work would be done at a rate not greater than $125,000,000 a year and all the money would have to be spent by 1962.

The bonds, with interest due, would be paid off from the same automobile tax income now being used for pay-as-you-go highway improvements.

On neither side of this issue are the arguments sufficiently persuasive to be conclusive.

Proponents claim that a piecemeal highway program cannot catch up to Ohio's needs and therefore a bond issue, which would make more money available in a shorter period of time, is necessary.

The argument against, as stated principally by Gov. Lausche, is that Ohio can catch up to its needs more efficiently by building roads on a pay-as-you-go basis than by paying interest on bonds.

From a purely financial point of view, it would seem that the cost of the interest charges on the bonds must be weighed against the long-range savings to be achieved by building new highways instead of patching old ones.

It is apparent that the heavily populated areas would stand to gain most from the proposed bond issue. Much of the money doubtless would be spent to construct access highways and expressways to alleviate traffic bottlenecks in highly congested urban communities.

As a matter of fact that has been the basis for opposition of certain county officials who foresee a reduced budget for maintenance of county and township roads

Proposed Amendment No 2, in itself, has many points to recommend it, yet there are certain dangers inherent in the mechanics of effectuating its provisions that should not be overlooked.

The amendment would substitute a state board of education for the present Ohio director of education, who is a member of the governor's cabinet and serves by the governor's appointment.

The board then would appoint a "superintendent of public instruction" who would be answerable to it, instead of to the governor

Fundamentally, a state board could be a good influence for education in Ohio, which perhaps explains why almost all school administrators, educators and parent-teacher organizations are backing it.

But it should be pointed out that the amendment simply makes possible the creation of a board and leaves to the General Assembly the job of spelling out the details, such as how its members shall be chosen.

If the Assembly's collective idea of doing this were to make board members run for election in statewide contests, we believe the school administrators would be sadly disappointed [illegible] now have state boards of education the members are appointed by the governor, which is not fool-proof but actually no more dangerous than the selection of a board of trustees for a state university.

The Ohio director of education is charged with certain important responsibilities as defined by law A state board of education would not be empowered with expanded authority except where the Assembly might be pressured into granting it. Therein lies a danger, remote as it may seem.

Educators agree that Ohio has done well under a single director but feel strongly that a state board would assure continuity of state educational direction, which, they insist, is a guarantee, instead of a hope

Brush-Up on Parity

As every newspaper reader knows, farm-commodity prices are of vital interest in politics. When they're nigh, politicians are happy. When they're falling, politicians are gloomy

Politicians now are gloomy. When this happens, much is heard about parity, the most talked about and least understood of the gimmicks developed to stabilize agricultural prices.

This is how parity works

Whenever the price of a farm commodity yields less purchasing power to its producer than the sale of the same commodity yielded at a certain period in the past, the government may support the price at a prescribed percentage of "parity."

Parity is the equivalent of an escalator clause in an industrial contract. It is an attempt to do by government action what wage earners, investors and businessmen try to do for themselves — maintain a level of value received for value produced which will not be subject to wild fluctuations.

When the phrase "90 per cent of parity" is used, it means that if a product should sell at $1 a unit to give a producer the same buying power he gained from selling the same product in the past the government will try to keep the price from falling below 90 cents. It will do this by purchasing the product.

Antiquated Laws

By David Lawrence

Logan Act, Similar Statutes Should Be Repealed

If you talk to the ambassador of any foreign country or any member of his staff and say anything that might possibly influence the opinion of these diplomats or their conduct on any matter in controversy with the United States, you may be arrested and put in jail.

This is what the so-called Logan Act really means. Yet few Americans know about it, and many of them are violating it every day both here and abroad The ban applies not merely to writing letters but also to oral communication.

The statute has never been enforced, possibly for the very good reason that its constitutionality might be challenged but mostly because nobody in our government probably would be able to determine judicially whether the foreign government has or has not been influenced by the communication in question.

THE LOGAN ACT has come into the news many times, and only a few days ago was cited in connection with a letter written by Rep. O'Konski, Republican, of Wisconsin, to President Rhee of the Republic of Korea advising him to release the prisoners who don't want to go back to the Communists.

Nobody probably would ever be able to prove in court, even if Rhee did release the prisoners, whether such an act would actually in the long run help or hurt the "measures of the government of the United States."

Also the statute says communication can be carried on with a foreign government only if it is done with permission of our government, and the law doesn't say whether, for this purpose, Congress is or is not a part of the government Usually when the executive branch is referred to in the statutes, the words "United States" are used and rarely is the broader word "government" by itself employed.

THE EXACT wording of the Logan Act is so sweeping that it would cover almost every form of contact between newspapermen, business men, legislators, and others who talk over problems of the day with members of foreign governments or their diplomatic representatives in the various capitals of the world.

Here is the text of the law, passed in 1799 and never repealed:

"Every citizen of the United States, whether actually resident or abiding within the same, or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, or in any foreign country, who, without the permission or authority of the government, directly or indirectly, commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with an intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any officer or agent thereof, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States; and every person, being a citizen of or resident within the United States or in any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and not duly authorized, who counsels, advises, or assists in any such correspondence with such intent, shall be fined not more than $5,000 and imprisoned not more than three years, but nothing in this section shall be construed to abridge the right of a citizen to apply, himself or his agent, to any foreign government or the agents thereof for redress of any injury which he may have sustained from such government or any of its agents or subjects."

-:-

THERE ARE many organizations in America which have felt free to interpose their influence with the diplomatic representatives of other countries—often with the intent of helping to bring about a peaceful solution of existing disputes or controversies with the United States.

Such well-meaning efforts, unless authorized in advance, could be the subject of prosecution if the Logan Act were enforced.

Then there are instances when foreign diplomats seek out Americans and frankly discuss existing situations in relation to disputes with the United States. For any American to advise a foreign government in such an informal chat at luncheon or dinner becomes an offense under the Logan Act unless permission has been granted by our "government"

This is one of the laws that, if passed for the first time today, would be greeted with cries of "thought control" and "conformity"

IT IS A LAW that plainly would restrict free speech and the freedom of the press, since a newspaperman who wrote an editorial criticizing the policy of the American government and sent a copy of his newspaper to a foreign government could technically be charged with violating the Logan Act.

It is high time Congress appointed a committee to repeal useless laws — and the Logan Act is certainly one of them.

It would be desirable to have a law that prohibited any American from representing himself as authorized to speak for the executive branch of the United States government in any communication with a foreign government, but the present law goes far beyond that restriction.

Now ladies . .

Frankly, we doubt that anyone is going to try her hand at brioche We wouldn't know good brioche from bad brioche. If there is going to be a culinary contest, let's get serious about some things we're capable of judging

Mother used to stir up a confection called sugar pie. According to our recollection, it was composed of brown sugar vinegar and butter and was produced for the primary purpose of using up pie crust left over from more ambitious pie-making projects, such as apple, berry, lemon meringue and raisin.

What made the sugar pies memorable wa sthe fact they found more favor than the main event They had lattice crusts on top, for one thing, because there wasn't enough dough to make a closed crust anyway. This added to their tastiness.

With the winter eating season at hand, the mere mention of sugar pie, to say nothing of home-baked bread and rolls is enough to start a prolonged drool

Mary Margaret McBride and Inez Robb have their recollections of such things and mine also have to do with homely dishes that were standard at that time in our kind of a family.

Once a week in winter we had fresh, yellow, corn - meal mush with butter and maple sirup. This was the main event on the night of the day the mush for the following week's fried-mush breakfasts was cooked

In butchering season there were panhaus and backstrap — both favorites. Since then we have paid for substances called panhaus but these never were more than poor imitations of the real thing Backstrap, no doubt, would be the same if it were sold in that form, instead of as part of a chop.

Beginning late in September and going through the R months, we had oyster stew once a week. Theoretically, modern-day oysters should be not only safer but better We doubt it. They are no match for the big babies Mr. Hartlieb used to ladle out of a white enamel ware can on the sidewalk in front of his butcher shop on W. Main Street.

And home - made bread, slathers of butter and preserves, oodles of eggs and a kind of bacon that came in chunks instead of strips and was stained at the edges with hickory smoke.

Plus sugar pie and — for bedtime snacks and morning eye-openers — hunks of crusty bread dunked in maple sirup. Not the kind of sirup you buy in a tin can that has a trace of the real thing added to simple sirup, but pure maple sirup you bought from sugar farms in springtime for a buck and a half a jug and brought to the boiling point to kill the mold before sealing it up for next winter.

Funny thing but no one ever complained about not feeling hungry

Falling Leaves

New York Mayoralty Path to Oblivion

By Raymond Moley

When I saw Mayor Vincent Impellitteri after his name had been ruled off the New York City ballot, I felt sorry for him.

This was not so much because he was to leave John MacComb's masterpiece of early 19th century architecture, but because chance and mistaken ambition had ever assigned a decent chap to such a job.

He was catapulted into the mayor' chair three years ago because of an unseemly deal which whisked William O'Dwyer to the ambassadorship of Mexico just in time for him to escape serious embarrassment.

ONCE IN OFFICE, Impellitteri gave battle to Tammany and stayed on, but in the end Tammany and the Bronx machine bested him in the primary this year with a notable name, Robert F. Wagner, Jr., which happens to have been bequeathed to an inconsequential son.

If history has anything to teach, that is the end of the political career of Vincent Impellitteri.

When I began the research essential to the writing of this piece I was laboring under a faulty impression. I believed that only once in a century had a person risen from the mayoralty of New York to a higher political office

That exception was a tool of Boss Tweed named John T. Hoffman, who became governor but when [illegible] master was overthrown,

To my surprise, I found one Fernando Wood, after two melodorous terms as mayor, served for some time in the House of Representatives. In my range of values, that was a promotion.

WITH THOSE two exceptions, 17 mayors went nowhere in politics, from a person named Westervelt in 1853, to Seth Low in 1902. Most of them were nobodies in their own right; two or three were rascals; and two — Abram Hewitt and W. R. Grace — had distinction in the business world

Seth Low had been president of Columbia University and a successful merchant. He was not re-elected, and his political career was substantially ended.

His successor, George B. McClellan was, like the current Wagner, the son of a father and not much more. He later dropped out of sight in Princeton.

William J. Gaynor was clean and able, but he died in office. John Purroy Mitchel, a reformer, was defeated for re-election and was killed in an accident a year or so later.

The ludicrous Hylan was snuffed out by Gov. Al Smith, who supplanted him with James J. Walker. The end of Walker's glory is known to all.

THEN THERE was, briefly, Joseph McKee. A now forgotten judge named O'Brien succeeded him, who after a year in office was defeated by Fiorello La Guardia, the most notable of all. He died after three terms.

I have already mentioned O'Dwyer, who like Walker found more peace and security on foreign soil.

There is the record and, despite it, three deluded men are inviting tragedy and oblivion this year. A fourth is running, but he doesn't expect to win He is merely advertising the red underwear of the American Labor party.

The moral of all this is that the job requires an all but non-existent combination of personal characteristics.

[illegible] La [illegible] Ga La Guardia succeeded because he was at once a demagogue and a tireless and able executive.

THIS YEAR we have a demagogue and a good executive running, but they happen to be two people.

The basic fault is that New York is not one city It is many cities. It was created by a merger in the very period, a half century ago, when mergers and expansions were the rage in business, too.

There is a hint of federalism in its government, but not enough decentralization.

The creators of Greater New York brought into being a job in which only one man in a century could make good.

GIs Foregoing College

By Harrison W. Fry

Well-paid jobs in business and industry have a bigger appeal to [illegible] college campus, college officials report.

Only a fraction of the total that had been anticipated in Korea veteran enrollment in the colleges has materialized, Dr Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati and former dean of Swarthmore College, points out in his annual fall survey of institutions of higher learning.

Under the veterans readjustment assistance act of 1952 the federal government pays directly to the veteran toward his education $110 up to $130 a month, according to dependents, for a maximum of 36 weeks

A considerable proportion of the GI's who followed through their original applications to the veterans aministration are engaged in part-time study at urban universities, thus receiving up to $50 a month from the government while holding regular jobs

But despite the failure of numbers of Korea veterans to respond to the free tuition offer, the total of full-time students enrolled in the colleges and universities of the nation this fall has turned upward after five years of decline

The greatest shortage of elementary-school teachers has brought a marked increase in enrollment at the teachers' colleges. Fifty-nine per cent of them show gains of up to 24 per cent in enrollment

While one of the greatest demands in industry is for technically trained recruits, the technological institutions have not shown the same degree of increase in enrollment as the colleges of arts and science Of the latter, 49 per cent showed gains of up to 34 per cent, while the technological institutions showed gains up to only 14 per cent

Half the higher institutions of learning in the U S. show increases in enrollment, with the public universities showing a much greater proportionate increase than the private universites.

The three institutions that have the largest enrollments in the U.S. — New York University, Columbia and the University of California — all show slight decreases in enrollment under last year's number.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA E. DUTTON

Company K of the 68th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, included 58 men from Marion County, most of them from Waldo, Pleasant and Richland Townships It moved into West Virginia in January, 1862. Among the engagements in which the company took part were Lookout Mountain, Mission Ridge, Rocky Face Ridge and Gettysburg. The regiment served in 12 states, marched over 11,000 miles and participated in 19 battles.

Seeds Fight Cancer

HAMPTON, S. C. (AP) — Hampton County cottonseed is being collected to fight cancer. The county cancer fund campaign committee devised this plan at the opening of the cotton picking season:

Each cotton grower is asked to give a handful of seed from his ginned cotton. Gins, where the seed is separated from the lint, are cooperating and boxes are provided there for the seed contributions.

At the end of the season, the seed will be sold and the proceeds will go to the fund.

Daily Bible Thought

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God.—Jn. 1:1. The Greeks called Wisdom the Word. God then is incarnate Wisdom. Some imagine this world was started by a silly accident, and sustained by perpetual motion. This view is supported by no evidence. It was created by wisdom and sustained by wisdom It is going somewhere

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Letter for Special Delivery

Lord Crook, Mme. Suzanne Bastid and Strue Petren,
United Nations Administrative Tribunal,
Whereever You Are.

Dear Lads and Lassies: Are you having fun, are you trying to start a new war or are you just supporting the current slogan "Never give a sucker and even break," which is being so widely applied to Uncle Sam?

As the United Nations Administrative Tribunal, you are dishing out big cash awards to all Americans fired from U N. for refusing to deny they were Communist agents. Seven got a total of $183,000, or full pay to date. Four more have just been awarded nearly $50,000. I don t dig it.

Are you inaugurating something new in the cash-prize field, a jackpot for hampering the free world, betraying the dedicated purposes of U.N. and leering at fair questions in a global struggle for survival?

I see where one fellow was awarded $40,000. Quite a few grabbed off around twenty grand. Nice money. I can't help wondering how U.N 's fighting men, risking death in far places, feel about it

-:-

I haven't heard anybody advancing the theory that when a GI refuses to cooperate with Uncle Sam or U N and is courtmartialed for taking a powder on Old Baldy or Heartbreak Ridge, he should get $40,000 in cash

If you ever hear anybody crying, "Right! You win the jackpot!" to a doughboy who has just given his commander the back of his hand let me know, won't you?

That's a promise, Lord Crook. And you, too, Madame Bastid

Generosity is generosity, especially with other people's money. You want to be fair with the "clammer-uppers" who refuse to say whether they are with us or against us? Okay, but couldn't you manage to play a little bit fair with the people of the United States?

As taxpayers, they pay through the nose for your $20 000 to $40 000 Christmas gifts. And it hurts because there are millions of them who love their country so much they not only answer "Are you a Commie?" willingly, but loudly.

They are first, last and always for the free world in its greatest hour of danger And, brother, when they lose a job no U.N. Tribunal votes them a pot of money. Nobody even sends them notes of sympathy.

I could give you the names of a lot of loyal Americans, none of whom ever hid behind a Fifth Amendment, who lost their jobs (yoo hoo Hollywood!) when Commies and fellow travelers ganged up on them.

It is not on the record that anybody on "administrative tribunals" anywhere leaped to their rescue with remuneration in cash. (Funny world, isn't it?)

It's amazing how much better eleven men and women can do financially by spiking a spy hunt than loyal, frank, fearless Americans giving full cooperation Looks like quite a big-paying racket in fact

Well, be sure the dough is fresh, crisp and green. These clammer-uppers are touchy. They may even demand that you pay them off in "lucky bucks."

Yours,
Elmer

The Las Vegas race track has been closed because of a lack of interest there in parimutuel gambling.

The reaction is expressed by the words "No dice" . . . And there is always the chance a horse race will be on the level, a terrible deterrent to the gambling mood out thataway.

'54 Chryslers To Go on Display Here

A 1954 WINDSOR Deluxe Sedan, similar to the one shown here, and a New Yorker Sedan will be the first two 1954 Chrysler models shown here in Marion Thursday at Symes Motors, Inc, 207-209 N. Main St.

Twenty different body styles in five models are available to customers this year Besides the Windsor Deluxe and New Yorker, there are also the New Yorker Deluxe, Custom Imperial, and Crown Imperial lines.

The new cars are available in sedans, club coupes, hard-top coupes, convertibles, Town and Country wagons, and limousines.

New exterior design emphasizes grace and streamlining. The grilles have been lowered and the bumpers made heavier. Side trim is also designed to add to the appearance of the cars.

A new 235-horsepower FirePower V-8 engine is claimed to be the most powerful automobile engine in the industry. The higher horsepower engines are used on the New Yorker, New Yorker Deluxe, and Imperial models.

Windsor Deluxe models are powered by the six cylinder Spitfire engine which produces 119 horsepower at 3,600 revolutions per minute

PowerFlite, Chrysler's new automatic transmission, is standard equipment on all the V-8 models, and optional on the Windsor Deluxe.

Side name plates this year are available in either gold or chrome. Grilles on all models vary somewhat, but all retain a family resemblance.

Inside the new Chryslers, emphasis has been put on the color harmony between exteriors and interiors. Fabrics, dash board, and other interior trim has been designed to match the outside paint.

Bolstered seat design is a new styling technique in the 1954 Chryslers. They are especially built for comfort. Front and rear seats on the Deluxe models have reclining center arm rests.

Use of foam rubber on the dashboard has been continued this year. In addition, the usual guages for oil pressure and amperes have been replaced. Indicator lights now flash on if the oil pressure or battery current becomes too low.

Booster Night Marked By County Grange Unit

Booster Night was observed in the form of a community get-together at a recent meeting of Pleasant Grange in the Pleasant School. Giles Hoch, presided for a short business meeting.

The program included introduction of members of the Pleasant School faculty; devotions by Mrs. Marion Craven; group singing; paper on "Know Ohio" by Mrs. Frank Putman and Mrs. Carl Hoch; an agricultural talk by Ray Dutt; a verse, "These Common Things." by Diane Briner; and a reading, "Several Things To Remember and Do," by Joan Mochel.

Round and square dancing provided recreation for the evening. Refreshments were served by the home economics committee. At the next meeting, a Halloween masquerade party will be held.

The Pharisburg service times are Sunday School at 10 a m., and worship at 11.

Delay in Mail Caused By Postmaster General

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The postmaster general delayed the air mail for nearly half an hour yesterday.

A Los Angeles Airways helicopter swooped down to the roof of the Terminal Annex post office to give Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and his wife a lift to International Airport, where passenger line connections awaited them.

It took a half an hour to get the couple out of the throng of well-wishers on the rooftop and into the cargo compartment of the helicopter.

Rev. Spickerman Talks To St. Mary School PTA

A large attendance was reported at the Thursday night meeting of the St. Mary's Parent Teacher Association meeting held in Moira Hall.

A report of the cake-walk held recently was read by H. A. Hertenstein, and plans to hold a similar project in November were made. Programs for the current school year were distributed.

Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., pastor of St Mary's Church, was guest speaker at the meeting. Guest speaker at the Nov. 19 meeting will be Rev. John P. Kleinz, professor of psychology at Pontifical College Josephinum at Worthington. His topic will be "TV and Radio Forces in the Life of a Child."

OSU TEAM WINS

BOSTON (AP)—Ohio State University's three-man team won the 19th collegiate students' international contest in dairy products judging last night. Members Jack H. Fowler; Ralph L. Paul, Canton, and Robert C. Milkie, Bellevue, took the top three individual honors. A $1,380 fellowship to be given a faculty-selected member was presented to the university.

Modern miracle for dry, lined skin!
Helena Rubinstein's New Lanolin-Vitamin Formula
For the first time in beauty history, Helena Rubinstein combines two modern miracle ingredients in her new Lanolin-Vitamin Formula — copies nature's way to help your skin look YOUNGER, SMOOTHER, SOFTER!

VITAMIN A for beauty from without . . . Vitamin A, recognized by medical science as the Skin Vitamin, works on the surface to melt away and actually prevent dryness and flaking.
BEAUTY FROM WITHIN . . . Lanolin, the beauty boon most closely resembling natural skin oils, works below the surface for all-important moisture to plump out skin, smooth out wrinkles, revive a younger look.
LANOLIN-VITAMIN FORMULA . . . is so readily absorbed, so grease-free you'll apply it to your skin daytimes under make-up and overnight without leaving a trace on face or pillow. For speed, for ease, for fabulous results you'll say you've never used anything like it in your life!
NOTE AMBER BOTTLE. It guards high vitamin content against destructive light, preserves effectiveness for you.

Costs Less To Borrow

Easy Money Gives Boost to Treasury

NEW YORK (AP)—Easy money is giving the U. S. Treasury a boost. In return the Treasury is giving easy money another pat on the back.

Thanks to a switch in money policy late in the spring for the purpose of fighting the business dip even before the general public realized it was under way, the administration is now able to borrow money at less cost than just a month ago.

By offering a bond appealing mostly to commercial banks, the Treasury today will take another step aimed at halting deflation by making money easier and credit more plentiful.

This is because sale of Treasury securities to the banks gives them a base which they could use to increase the money supply. If the bonds had been aimed at reaching the nation's real savings, those held outside of commercial banks, the Treasury would have been competing with industry, farming, builders, businessmen for the funds available for loans. This would have tightened money instead of easing it.

Early in the year the Federal Reserve Board did tighten the money and credit supply. It cut the amount of funds that commercial banks had to lend. Interest rates rose.

Businessmen, builders and farmers found bankers reluctant or unable to lend as freely as before. Corporations found they must pay higher interest rates than they liked if they were to float new securities in the investment market.

The resulting clamor against the tight money policy coincided with the cresting of the Korean War boom wave in March and its slow receding since.

Then the federal reserve took steps to ease credit. It cut the amount of money banks must keep tied up as reserves. It bought U. S. Treasury securities from the bank making more money available for lending. The money pinch ended in July.

With more money out looking for work, yields began sliding in the security markets. The Treasury this week borrowed money in the short-term market at the lowest interest cost in 38 months.

It will peddle its eight-year bond at only 2¾ per cent, compared with 2⅞ per cent it had to pay in September on notes running only 3½ years.

The banks not only have more money to lend than they had last spring, but they also have less demand for their funds than they had counted on. Industry and business turned cautious in August and September and the usual fall demand for credit hasn't been as big as anticipated.

Bank loans to industry, business and agriculture have picked up seasonally—but not with the rush that the bankers have come to look for at this time of year.

Commercial interest rates have eased a little, too, along with the rates the government must pay to borrow to meet its growing deficit.

In the mortgage field there is considerable debate. Builders insist money is too tight and mortgage terms too stiff. Bankers and other investors contend tere is plenty of money to lend to "the right borrowers." But bankers are looking hard at applicants these days, wanting bigger down payments, higher rates.

Easy money is paying off for the Treasury in lower interest charges.

Its real concern, however, is to fight deflation which is now considered more of a threat than a renewal of inflation. To that end it'll probably keep money easy.

RICHWOOD SERMON THEME

Volunteer Firemen Held After Setting Two Fires

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP)—Edward Wink, 31-year-old former volunteer fireman for the District Heights Fire Department, has been held in $2,000 bond on charges of setting two fires.

Detective Sgt. Ralph E. Bond of Prince George's County said Wink started the fires Sept. 30, then answered the alarms with the Fire Department.

Wharton Couple Notes Golden Wedding Year

Special to The Star

CAREY — Mr. and Mrs John Robison, of near Wharton, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 25, with open house.

They were united in Marriage Oct 22, 1903, by Rev. Joseph Robison, in his home, southwest of Carey. The only witness to the ceremony now living is Mr. Robison's sister, Mrs. Sarah Esterley, of south of Carey

Mrs. Robison, the former Ciara Cole, is the daughter of the late Isaac and Nancy Janet Cole and Mr Robison's parents were the late Henry and Catherine Robison. The couple resided on a farm southwest of Carey for nine years and later moved northwest of Wharton where they have lived 37 years. Mr. Robison was engaged in farming until he retired in 1951. They have only one daughter, Mrs Virgil Worst of Carey, and three grandchildren: Dorcas Hunter of Findlay, Robert Hunter at home and Charles Hunter who is serving in the armed forces in Germany.

VETOES WORK CUT

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — Mayor John Walker, saying funds were not available for additional men, vetoed an ordinance yesterday which would have cut 16 hours from the 72-hour work week for firemen. City councilmen had voted to hire two additional men and reduce hours for firefighters.

KILLED IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — William Binns, 5, of Columbus, was killed by a car last night

New Polish Note Asks U.S. Return Ship

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Communist Poland has fired off a new note to the United States reiterating its demand that Washington secure the release of a Polish ship seized by a Chinese Nationalist gunboat early this month.

A Warsaw radio broadcast last night quoted the note as saying the Polish government holds the United States responsible for the lives and health of certain members of the ship's crew who have been reported under arrest.

The vessel, the Praca, was seized by the Chinese Nationalist warship Oct. 4 in Far Eastern waters.

A previous Polish note to Washington, delivered Oct. 12, said the United States was responsible for the seizure because "it is well known that the Chiang Kai-shek forces stationed on Taiwan (Formosa) are under the political and military control of the U. S."

It also claimed that two aircraft, one bearing U. S. Air Force markings, circled over the Praca an hour before its arrest

A U. S. reply a week ago rejected the charges, stating that the U. S government had no connection with the stopping of the ship.

The new Polish note termed this answer completely unsatisfactory. It declared the Nationalist forces dared to stop the ship only because of U. S support.

HEADS TAXI ASSOCIATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Taxicab Assn., elected Alton Miller, Bowling Green, Ky., president last night. It elected Tracy Pack, Portsmouth, Ohio, and Virgil George, Springfield, Ohio, to the board of directors.

SEEKS DIVORCE

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Emma T Barton filed a divorce action yesterday against state Rep. James J. Barton, a Republican. Mrs. Barton also filed a $50,000 alienation-of-afections suit against Mrs. Luelda E. Schwab, a widow.

Malted Milk Makes Chocolate Cake Different

The only thing better than chocolate cake is malted milk chocolate cake. Top it with malted milk uncooked frosting and it will be unbelieveably good.

The malt and chocolate together in preparation, the uncooked gives the cake a subtle difference that will surprise your family and guests.

For a fluffy, easy-to-spread topping that is almost failure proof, the malted milk icing can't be surpassed.

To make a malted milk chocolate cake cream ½ cup shortening, add 1 cup sugar and 1 cup malted milk and ½ cup cocoa. Cream well. Add 3 well-beaten eggs. Sift together the following: 2 cups cake flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ cup sugar.

Add to first mixture, alternating with ¾ cup milk. Pour into well-greased floured pans. Bake 30 minutes in 350 degree oven.

(Uncooked Frosting): Cream 5½ tablespoons butter, add ½ teaspoon salt and 1½ tablespoons malted milk powder. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. 2-3 cup cocoa. Cream well. Add ½ cup top milk and 3 cups confectioner's sugar. Beat until smooth.

Rotarians Hear Talk, Program By News Artist

Al Gatchell, artist for the Columbus Citizen, entertained Rotary Club members and guests at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at Hotel Harding with free hand sketches.

He sketched the profiles of several Rotarians and drew cartoons.

Guests were Don Yoder of the Howard Swink Agency; Richard L. Tracey, public service editor of the Citizen; Glenn Fraser of Delaware, Ohio Wesleyan coach; and George T. Leatherman of Findlay.

It was announced that the district Rotary Club governor would make his official visit to Marion Nov. 3 for the purpose of discussing the accomplishments and objectives of the different Rotary committees.

Marion Choral Groups Take Part in Festival

Three choirs of Emanuel Lutheran Church in Marion took part with nine others in the North Central Lutheran Choir Festival recently at St. John's Church at New Washington where Rev. Lewis G. Nicol is pastor. Guest conductor and critic, who directed three massed choir numbers, was Prof. Ellis E. Snyder of the music faculty at Capital University in Columbus.

The Junior and Intermediate Choirs from Marion were the only children's and young people's groups taking part. They are directed by Miss Wanda McMahan and William Dowler, respectively.

with Mrs. Ralph Mills and Mrs. Richard Curren as accompanists. Homer E. Huffman is director of the Senior Choir, and Mrs. William Ackerman, accompanist.

Other choirs participating were those of St. Paul Church, Upper Sandusky, Mrs. M. J. Kuenzli, director, and Miss Mary Zahn, accompanist; St. Paul, Jenera, Rev E. G. Ackerman and Mrs. Ackerman; Nazareth at Chatfield, Carl J. Ross and Mrs. Eldon Briegel; St. John (Windfall), Cardington, Curtis Rengert and Mrs. Homer Ebert; Bethlehem, Attica, Mrs. Robert C. Schild and Miss Lois Ritz. Trinity Women's Choir, Crestline, Herbert Krichbaum and Miss Elsie Nundesser, North Salem, Upper Sandusky, Harold Gottfried and Mrs. Charles Pfeifer; Good Hope, Bucyrus, Mrs. H. K. Pirnstill and Mrs. E. J. Katterhenrich and St. John, New Washington, Miss Freda Lover and Mrs. C. E. White.

Reviews Research

Ohio Edison Head Heard On Farm Electrification

WASHINGTON — Electric utility companies "urge and pledge cooperation in a program of continued coordinated research on the part of all farm agencies and organizations," Walter H. Sammis, president of Edison Electric Institute and president of Ohio Edison Company, told the National Farm Electrification Conference Tuesday.

Despite the fact the greatest use of electricity is in the farm home, the greatest potential for future business is that offered by the farm chore load, Sammis said

These two important conclusions are readily apparent from recent studies, the Edison Electric Institute head declared.

One such survey of scores made by utility companies in conjunction with land-grant colleges, universities and other agencies served to point up the fact that electricity on the average farm has hardly scratched the surface, it was pointed out.

The EEI head outlined his views in discussing "Progress in Farm Electrification Through Research," and reviewed various research projects initiated over the past 30 years.

Much Yet To Be Done

"All of us—suppliers of electricity, equipment manufacturers, farm organizations and the U. S. Department of Agriculture—can derive considerable satisfaction from the progress of farm electrification to date," he added. "Our cooperative efforts have enabled the farmer to produce more with less manpower. But much remains to be done."

Explaining further the electric utility companies' keen interest in farm electrical research, Sammis stressed that the companies recognize they can prosper only to the extent that the areas in which they do business "enjoy healthy and durable growth."

"All of their money, invested in generating equipment, substations and lines, is anchored in the soil of the territories they serve," he reminded the conference.

"Unlike manufacturers and other industries, an electric utility cannot move to another section if it finds business slack and unsatisfactory. All utility companies are therefore active in area development."

Subscribe To Fund

Characteristic of research projects now going on, Sammis stated that beginning in 1951 all of the electric utility companies in Ohio and 18 of the State's 28 rural electric cooperatives established the Ohio Farm Electrification Council and subscribed 10 cents a farm meter for each of three years to a fund to be administered by Ohio State University. He said that research studies and clinics have been held by these groups to secure information and useful data on (1) infra red brooding, (2) dairy and poultry building ventilation, (3) the effect of processing feed on animal nutrition and metabolism, (4) harvesting of wheat at different stages of maturity in an effort to improve milling quality.

"Ohio farmers have been losing hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in poor quality wheat due to storing harvested wheat with too high a moisture content. Proper forced air ventilation is expected to reduce such losses," he said.

Sammis emphasized how the farmer has been an important beneficiary of electrical progress.

In his home can be found the same labor-saving, comfort-producing electrical facilities that are owned by his city cousins," he reminded his listeners.

Important Step Taken

He recounted how in 1923 an important step was undertaken that gave real impetus to the farm electrification movement. This was when the Committee on Relation of Electricity to Agriculture was formed by the National Electric Light Association, American Farm Bureau Federation, American Society of Agricultural Engineers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and others.

Twenty-seven state committees were organized for the purpose of building a test farm line project in each state to serve a group of farmers and to cooperate in the application of electricity to farm equipment.

The first experimental line under this program was constructed near Red Wing, Minn., that same year, Sammis pointed out. Other lines soon were constructed in New Hampshire, Michigan, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Illinois and Ohio.

The pioneer Ohio test line, about six miles long, was built near Marysville in 1926 to serve 13 of 22 farmers residing along the route.

An interesting aftermath of the establishment of this line, he said, was the development by a farm representative of the Ohio Edison Company, working in conjunction with a manufacturer, of the first off-peak electric water heater with baffles within the tank for supplying hot water in the farm dairy. A crude affair, it was a forerunner of the type of appliance in popular use today.

Research Conducted

In addition to working with local land-grant colleges and universities in many states, the utilities also have engaged in independent research.

It is estimated that one-sixth of the country's population live on farms and receive from seven to eight per cent of the national income, the EEI head emphasized. It is not uncommon for a farmer to have an investment in land and equipment running $100,000 o rmore, he pointed out.

"With such a large segment of the population engaged in farming, the electric utility companies deem it a challenge to continue their best efforts to make electricity do more and earn more for the farmer and his family," he concluded.

Eisenhower

written appeal to New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

At one point, during discussion of possible meetings with heads of other governments, Eisenhower said that no plan is now in being or under study for a meeting between him and Prime Minister Churchill.

The British leader said yesterday there were few things he would like more than a quiet, informal chat with the President.

Eisenhower, voicing warm admiration for Churchill, said he thought there was a constant wish on both sides for a meeting but he stressed that no plan exists for one at present.

Has More Duties

Eisenhower noted that the President of the United States has more duties—ceremonial and other—than Churchill or the Soviet Premier.

Nonetheless, Eisenhower said fervently, he will do anything in the world, including a meeting with Malenkov, if he feels it will advance the cause of world peace.

Eisenhower asserted also that Secretary of State Dulles is willing to meet, and has been meeting, with anyone in authority with a view to easing world tensions.

The Western Allies are awaiting a reply from Russia to a proposal for a foreign ministers meeting at Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 9.

Eisenhower said that for him to meet with the Soviet leader would be perfectly hopeless unless this country knew the Russians' purpose was honest.

Then he said he was not insisting that the Russian perform any one specific act to prove good faith. It could be said, without going into detail, be any of a hundred acts.

First Concrete Laid For Ohio Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The first actual paving of a strip of the Northern Ohio Turnpike started at 8 15 a m. today at the Pennsylvania-Ohio border in Mahoning County

The first cement was poured in the west lane of the road that will stretch 241 miles across the state to the Indiana border

The Harrison Construction Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., has the contract for the first section of 5.1 miles The firm got the job on its low bid of $3.519.250

At the same time the turnpike commission disclosed the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission had discovered its turnpike fails 60 feet short of the Ohio line. The Pennsylvania commission as given the Harrison firm a contract to construct the remaining 60 feet at a cost of about $2,000

The commission today advertised for nine more miles of roadway contracts in Ottawa and Sandusky counties.

Talks Rushed On Milk Strike Truce in N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—A mediator's report of progress in wage talks spurred hopes today for a quick end to a strike cutting fresh milk supplies for 12 million persons in the New York metropolitan area.

There were rumors that an agreement might come today, a resumption of deliveries tomorrow and a retail price increase the day after.

Chief basis for optimism was an announcement yesterday by a city labor relations official that "some tangible progress" was being made in peace talks between 200 companies and the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

First Sign of Peace

It was the first notice of headway in almost continuous bargaining sessions since the strike by 13,000 drivers and plant workers started Sunday, The talks were to resume today.

Meanwhile, fresh milk just about disappeared from most homes and stores in New York City, Long Island, Westchester County in New York and New Jersey north of Trenton. The area normally uses about five million quarts daily.

New York City mothers lined up by the thousands yesterday at distribution depots for rations of milk. Restaurants scratched the drink from their menus. Store sales of evaporated and powdered milk were 100 to 400 per cent above normal.

Some independent dairy companies not involved in the dispute managed to make a few store deliveries in New Jersey, where police protected the independent drivers from any renewal of occasional outbreaks of violence which occurred Monday.

May Have To Dump

A supply of milk flowed to hospitals, schools and other such institutions. Officials expressed fears that 400,000 quarts of raw milk worth $40,000 would have to be dumped for lack of sufficient pasteurization facilities.

Dairy farmers supplying the area, who face losses estimated at $250,000 a day, were diverting their milk to cheese and other products where facilities are available. Some farmers were being forced to dump theirs or feed it to hogs.

Mayor Vincent R Impellitteri was ready to intervene in the wage negotiations yesterday, but he held back upon receipt of a progress report from Daniel Kornblum, director of the city's labor relations division.

Panel Discussion Set on City Charter

Citizens' Meeting Slated Tomorrow at YMCA To Explain Plan

A citizens' meeting Thursday evening at the YMCA will give Marion voters an opportunity to hear pros and cons of the proposed home rule charter discussed.

The meeting, sponsored as a voters' service project by the Marion League of Women Voters, will feature a panel discussion on the home rule charter by Miss Pansy Rauhauser and Robert Kelly.

SUBJECT OF THE panel discussion will be "What Can a Home Rule Charter Mean to You and Marion." Miss Rauhauser, a League member and history instructor at Harding High School, and Kelly, a Marion attorney, both served as members of the home rule charter study committee formed early this spring.

Miss Rauhauser, who has taught in Marion schools since 1907, is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University. She has done graduate work at Ohio State University and Columbia University

Kelly became interested in the study of government while studying law and while teaching high school civics and government for two years.

Following the panel discussion by the two speakers, the meeting will be turned open to questions and discussion from the members of the audience. To be briefly discussed are other city, county and state issues that will appear on the ballot Tuesday. Local candidates present at the meeting will be introduced.

MISS PANSY RAUHAUSER

ROBERT KELLY

THE MEETING which will follow the final report meeting of the United Appeals campaign, is scheduled to start promptly at 8 p.m. and will conclude at 9:30 p.m. It is open to the public

Acting as chairman and moderator is Mrs. James E. Frew. The meeting is a project of the voters' service committee headed by Mrs Francis Wanda.

Making plans for the meeting is Mrs. Robert W. Fay. Assisting her have been Mrs. William Decker, Mrs Carl Mounts, Mrs William Fretz, Mrs. Clifford Baker, Mrs Robert Bergman, Mrs. Michael Strait, Mrs. Jess Stewart, and Mrs. Bertha Gooding

Presenting a brief discussion of city, county and state issues will be Mrs William Diem Mrs Henry Rahl, Mrs. Durward Myers, Mrs B. N Saleman, and Mrs Frew

Ushers will be Mrs Douglas Torrance, Mrs. J. R Patterson, Mrs Ray Kaufman, and Mrs. Harold Young A table featuring League pamphlets and the local publication, "Your Marion" will be set up by Mrs. E. W. Warwick, publications chairman She will be assisted by Miss Ruth Kramer and Mrs. Jay Alton.

Wilson Denies Immediate Plans

U.S. Troops in Europe Not To Be Cut

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans to reduce the over-all strength of the Army next year but there is no plan to pare down immediately American ground force strength in Europe.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and his manpower chief, Asst. Secretary John Hannah, sketched in some details at a joint news conference yesterday.

Wilson set out to explain remarks at an earlier news conference which had been viewed in some quarters, abroad as well as at home, as foreshadowing a reduction in U. S. Army strength in Europe.

The secretary asserted that "we have no immediate plans for taking troops out of Europe." Then he quoted from a transcript of his earlier conference in support of his contention that he was talking about "long-run" plans when he associated developments of new weapons with the possibility of cutting ground forces overseas.

Official declaration of intention to maintain U. S. troop strength in Europe was immediately hailed as "reassuring" by the French deputy foreign minister, Maurice Schumann, who called on Secretary of State Dulles yesterday.

Schumann told newsmen afterward that he was "definitely satisfied" the U.S. contribution to defense forces in Europe would not be weakened and that "every responsible person in France" was reassured.

Hannah told the news conference that while the Air Force will remain at approximately present strength (960 000) the Army will end the current fiscal year next June with about 1,423 000 (present strength about 1,530,000) and afterwards would be cut somewhat below that figure.

The Navy, he said, will have a strength at the end of the fiscal year of about 742 500 and the Marine Corps 234,000.

Wilson and Hannah both insisted that the trimming away of non-combat manpower would make no reduction in battle efficiency of the Army. The present 20 divisions will continue, they said, although it was indicated farter study might be given.

Hannah expressed the opinion that, even when the combat structure of the Air Force reaches the level of 127 wings (compared with a present 106), an increase of only 10,000 men would be adequate to man that force.

Charter

including treasurer, city attorney, and some other department heads.

4. Elected administrative boards.

DEFECTS OF THE mayor-council plan listed are. It lends itself easily to political manipulations, does not provide successfully for competent department heads or other personnel, lacks a unifying single executive head, and is so diffused as to make effective voter control at the polls almost impossible.

The "strong" mayor form was a variation developed in an attempt to correct some of the weaknesses of the mayor-council form. Now in wide use in the United States this form is very similar to its parent form. It commonly has these characteristics:

1. A city council elected by wards or at large.

2. A mayor elected at large.

3. The mayor has power to hire and fire most or all department heads.

4. The mayor may veto acts of council.

5. The mayor prepares the city budget for council consideration.

The two chief defects listed are. 1. The difficulty of electing mayors consistently who have real executive ability and knowledge of the job, and 2. The opportunity provided for a mayor to build up a powerful personal political machine.

IN THIS FORM the council is responsible for legislation and policy-making while the mayor's job is administrative except in his power to veto acts of council.

Another form of city government which has been gaining popularity each year since about 1908 is the council-manager plan.

Interest in this particular system is evidently widespread as indicated by a statement appearing in the 1953 Municipal Yearbook The statement says: "Probably the continued growth of the council-manager plan constituted the years' largest scale single development in municipal administrative organization during 1952."

It was first used in Staunton, Va., in 1908, where the office of "general manager" was created and continued for several years as an addition to city government which then consisted of a two-house city council and mayor.

It first developed into what is now called the city-manager plan in Lockport, N. Y in 1911

Chief characteristics of the council-manager plan are:

1. A council usually elected at large (however, many cities have chosen to use the ward system of council election).

2. The council hires a professionally-trained city manager who is subject to dismissal by the council any time.

3. All legislative and policy-making powers, including the decision as to how much money shall be spent, are centered in the council.

4. Responsibility for administration is given the manager who has power to appoint and dismiss department heads and other administrative employes, subject to civil service provisions The manager also drafts the budget for presentation to council.

THE MUNICIPAL League claims most cities using this plan report no structural defects. In a few instances, strong political machines have retained their hold on the council, a non-professional manager has been appointed and politics has been injected into the administration resulting in discontent with the system, the League adds.

First large city to adopt the manager plan was Dayton in 1914 and its initial success in that city is said to have received nationwide attention which provided impetus for the subsequent growth of the system.

One of the most persistent objections heard locally to this plan is that some of the department heads who now hold elective offices would become appointive officers under the control of the city manager who appoints them. Backers of the plan hasten to point out, however, that this need not be so, that under a home rule charter system either appointive or elective methods of selecting various department heads could be set up.

This brings us to what the Non-Partisan Home Rule Government Study Committee in Marion terms the fifth form of municipal government possible under Ohio law. It is the Home Rule Charter plan.

IN ITSELF THIS is not a specific form of government organization but is a plan whereby any Ohio city may adopt any one of the other forms, combinations of them, variations of them, or entirely new systems all developed to fit the needs of the particular city involved.

Backers of this plan point out that while the commission, federal, and council-manager plans are available as "optional" types of government under Ohio law they must be adopted in the exact form prescribed by the state legislature —unless the city involved first adopts a home rule charter. Without this charter, the plans prescribed fail to take into consideration specific local problems, advocates of home rule claim.

DOOMED BABY ALL RIGHT. Mrs. Richard Cole's joy is apparent as she holds a stethoscope for her son, 8-week-old Jerrold, believed doomed by a hopeless heart condition three weeks before. Now he's all right, due to last chance surgery which always had been fatal in such cases. Jerrodl had heart constriction. He is shown at Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle, Wash.

States Crack Down On Highway Speed

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Municipal Association reports that the states are cracking down on reckless drivers. In a survey of new state laws, the Association found:

Massachusetts: a merit and demerit plan was set up to lower insurance rates for good drivers and set them up for poor ones.

North Carolina: driving license is suspended for 30 days for any one driving over 70 miles an hour, for 60 days in a second conviction within a year.

South Dakota: a financial responsibility law was enacted.

Oregon: minimum amount of compulsory insurance was doubled

Indiana: a statewide speed limit was established and stiff penalties are required for drunken driving.

Nevada: conviction of drunken driving ranges from 30 days' to a year's suspension of driving license for the first offense; additional convictions draw two year suspension.

New York drunk driver suspects must take blood test or lose their licenses.

Tennessee: blood tests are admitted as evidence for drunk driving. Penalties for drunken drivers were increased.

Club Approves Donation To United Appeals Drive

It was voted to give $25 to United Appeals, at a meeting of the Literary Arts Club Tuesday night at the home of Mrs Robert Glosser on E Center St.

Mrs. Dan Buckley reviewed the play, "Jane" the original story of which was written by S N Behrman, for the program. The sale of articles made by the band was held before the meeting

The next meeting will be a Christmas sparty December 8 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Morrison on Virginia Ave.

CAGE OFFICIALS MEET

A meeting of the Mid-Ohio Basketball Officials Association will be held tonight at 7 30 at the Marion YMCA. Joe Cox will conduct the meeting and discuss new rules for the approaching season and other facts he obtained during a rules interpretation meeting at Mansfield.

UPPER SANDUSKY — Two young men registered with the Wyandot County selective service board went to Toledo for their pre-induction physical examination They were Donald Bassler, of near Upper Sandusky, and Billy Kin Jr. of near Forest.

Bitter Cattlemen Head Back Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cattlemen's "caravan" hit the trail for home today, its members voicing chagrin at lack of success in the capital but vowing to take their fight for livestock price supports to the political grass roots.

At their windup session yesterday, they greeted enthusiastically a suggestion that each man carry the campaign for a government floor livestock prices to his own congressman and senators

The cattlemen appeared to have written off completely any idea of getting direct price supports from Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

"Benson isn't going to help us," said James G Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, which organized the caravan. "He had the perfect chance to do it while these men were here, if he was going to do it."

Halloween Pranksters Overturn Outbuilding

Residents residing near Morral and Green Camp reported an outbuilding turned over and damage to a fence to the Marion County sheriff's office Tuesday

The outbuilding was turned over some time Monday night near Morral, and was thought to be the work of Hallowe'eners

C P Harper of near Green Camp told sheriff's deputies that several feet of fence at the intersection of County Roads 35 and 45 were damaged, apparently by a hit-skip driver.

GALION TEENAGERS BETTER

GALION — Injured last Saturday night in an automobile accident, Sandra Reed, 16, and Estal Allen, 17, both of Galion, are improving after treatment in City Hospital, here Miss Reed had received multiple body bruises and lacerations, and Miss Allen had a slight concussion, body bruises and contusions. The driver of the car in which they were riding, Merlyn F. Lenhart, 17, lost control of the car and it turned over 11 miles south of Galion. He and another occupant of the car, Miss Pat Coughlin, 17, had bruises.

Missing Plebe Found AWOL

Surrenders to Air Police in Wyoming

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Midshipman William Norman Dietch, 19, charged with being AWOL from the Annapolis Naval Academy for one week, will be turned over to naval authorities in Denver today

Authorities at Warren Air Force Base here said Dietch surrendered to air police Tuesday and was held at request of the Naval Academy.

After telephoning his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip W. Dietch of Fairlawn, N. J., the youth refused to tell why he left Annapolis Oct. 20 and came to Cheyenne.

Dietch disappeared the day he was to be discharged from the Navy hospital after treatment of a bronchial condition ignore the significance of that election," he said "It was a warning signal that should not be discounted."

He said Republicans face a "tough contest" in a Nov 10 special election in California's 24th Congressional District However most of that district lies in urban Los Angeles and Pasadena

In this district, formerly represented by Republican Rep Paul Poulson, now Los Angeles' mayor, Democratic registrations top Republican by 10,000. Two Democrats and two Republicans are running, the high man will be the winner

Kefauver said he thinks the Republicans ought to realize that the Agriculture Department's estimate yesterday that farmers will wind up this year with a billion dollars less net income than in 1952 points toward a "substantial recession" in business.

Estimate Too Low

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) said he thinks the department's estimate of farmers' loss of revenue is far too low. But he added he doesn't believe Eisenhower would be willing to call a special session "to compel himself to do something he has full authority to do now."

He said what is needed more is "a change of policy by Secretary of Agriculture Benson either on his own initiative or by presidential directive."

"Benson at all times has had full authority and ample finances to prevent the collapse of cattle prices or to restore them now," Kerr said.

Kefauver said agriculture "must have a price support program and the farmer is entitled to know what it is," adding that Benson is "doing a great deal of harm in not making up his mind."

Benson told a cattlemen's delegation here yesterday he will consider a request for a price support program for live cattle but made it obvious he was unconvinced that such price props are the answer objected to Dean's statement Tuesday which he said "conspicuously omitted the question of the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea as was provided in the armistice agreement

"Outside the meeting, your side openly declared that the objective which the political conference seeks after should only be the withdrawal of all Chinese forces whereas all the American forces will remain in Korea Our side will never tolerate such an attitude of your side."

India Reports Deaths

Indian troops guarding prisoners of war who have refused to go home announced Wednesday that 18 POWs have died and that three were murdered.

Nine of the dead were Koreans and the other nine were Chinese.

Ten reportedly died of natural causes, but the rest died violently, including three killed by guards during demonstrations.

Gen Matthew B Ridgway, U S. Army chief of staff, flew to Indian headquarters Wednesday to confer with Lt. Gen. K S Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission. There was no indication what they discussed.

Marion Engineers Will Plan Ashley Water Reservoir

Floyd G. Browne and Associates, Marion engineers, have been hired by the Ashley village council to draw up plans for construction of a water reservoir.

The Marion firm will also be employed to handle the construction which will be started as soon as plans are approved by the Ashley council.

The critical water shortage at Ashley and nearby Sunbury reached a climax two weeks ago when volunteer firefighters started hauling water from the Delaware reservoir to the Ashley treatment plant. Two 1,000-gallon tank trucks on loan from the Marion Engineer Depot and an 800-gallon truck from the state highway department were being used for the "operation water haul."

Ashley has drawn its water for a number of years from three shallow wells and there has been no reserve supply. With the current critical water shortage, Water Commissioner Charles McBeth headed a movement to construct a reservoir to avoid repetition of the water famine.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

Ever since I can remember, the presidency has been called a man-killing job. It truly must be a hard job if so much is said about it.

SOKOLSKY

I looked up what it has done during the twentieth century:

William McKinley was assassinated.

Theodore Roosevelt left the presidency in 1909; then he went hunting in Africa, edited the "Independent"; ran for a third term on the "Bull Moose" ticket; tried to get into World War I; died in 1919 at the age of 60.

William Howard Taft left the presidency in 1913; he became chief justice of the United States; died in 1930 at the age of 72.

WOODROW WILSON died of a tumor on the brain at the age of 67. He became ill during his presidency. There is no evidence that hard work had anything to do with it.

Warren Harding died in office at 57 under circumstances which leave the cause of death in doubt, but it was not overwork.

Calvin Coolidge left the presidency in 1929. He died of a heart attack in 1933 at the age of 60.

Herbert Hoover is still alive at the age of 79. He is actively engaged in the reorganization of the federal government at the head of a commission that bears his name.

Franklin D. Roosevelt died in office at the age of 63. He had served three terms and was in his fourth.

-:-

HARRY TRUMAN, who left the presidency less than a year ago, is busy writing an autobiography, making speeches and traveling about the country. He is 69 years old.

This is the record. Out of nine, only two died in office on account of illness; one was assassinated.

As most presidents are past middle age, death is not unexpected: the seven who died averaged 62½ years, if that tells anything.

There is no evidence in any kind of statistics that hard work, particularly mental work, ever killed anybody.

As a matter of fact, the records tend to show that mental workers live long, perhaps because they keep out of the way of accidents, do not strain vital organs, and do not exercise. (The last point is a private theory of my own based on nothing.)

-:-

MENTAL WORKERS generally eat lustily, which, according to the doctors, should shorten their lives. Only in the case of Harding is there even a suspicion that his death had anything to do with eating.

The presidency of the United States is an interesting, exciting, challenging job. Some psychologists insist that boredom in old age is a cause of decay and death.

No one can take the presidency seriously and be bored with the job. Every moment something new and vital appears to stimulate the mind.

Of course, if a man likes to dodge responsibility, he may find that the challenges pass him by. Charles Evans Hughes, who was Harding's secretary of state, did most of the broad thinking of that administration. He died at the age of 86, after serving as chief justice of the United States.

THE PRESIDENCY is a political position ina free society, which means that the President must be mentally agile, quick in his perceptions, capable of adjusting to public opinion, a mass psychologist to keep himself popular, an orator of sufficient calibre not to bore his nation, a leader of a party experienced enough not to lose elections.

No president can succeed, just as no governor of a state can succeed, who lacks these qualities, even if he is a competent administrator.

The position therefore requires unusual maturity anda philosophic turn of mind. Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Calvin Coolidge, and Franklin D. Roosevelt combined all these qualities.

-:-

HERBERT HOOVER was too honest intellectually and too truthful in the expression of his views for the presidency; he achieved his greatest popularity 20 years after he left that office.

Harry Trum an st l ilnedesbtoe Harry Truman still needs to be appraised. Eisenhower is in office and cannot be discussed objectively.

I doubt that the presidency is a man - knill ligo erbspe cftxh mn - kling jbt xcp fr hooenietet man - kil'ing job except for those who dislike its numerous challenges and who cannot understand the nature of a free society and the limitations of constitutional government.

Such a man finds its inhibitions distasteful and fails. Few such have reached the presidency.

McCARTHY'S GET AN AUTO. Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) (right) smiles approvingly as his bride of a few weeks receives the keys to a Cadillac (background) from Eugene M. Biggers of Appelby, Tex. in front of the Capitol in Washington. The car is a wedding gift from a group of Texans. The $6,000 automobile has air conditioning and "the works," as Biggers expressed it.

POWs Who Give False Confessions To Be Discharged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Informed senators said today all U. S. military prisoners in Korea who cooperated with their Communist captors or gave false confessions will be quietly ousted from the services.

They said this assurance had been given by Secretary of Defense Wilson and the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Lawmakers who asked not to be named said the ousters will be on an individual case basis.

The reported Pentagon promise that those who broke under Communist persuasion or tortures will be separated from the service may head off a potential investigation by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The Norwegians use about twice as much electricity per capita as do the people of the United States.

So Mrs. Brother's brother-in-law, or Mrs. Brother's husband's brother, was married to Mr Brother's sister-in-law, or Mr. Brother's wife's sister.

Anyhow, Mrs Young and Maynard R. Brother were married.

Between 1901 and 1945, the U. S. divorce rate rose from 8 per 1,000 people to 3.6 annually.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

This is warning to every Democratic election headquarters in the land: Communist cells in every city are under direct orders to infiltrate Democratic party election machinery in these final days before the November elections. These are the hours when precinct captains grab at every ward worker they can get.

RIESEL

Democratic officials should screen all volunteers—for this is the first step in the Communists' efforts to seep into the Democratic party so they can work their way up in the organization by next year's congressional polls.

-:-

THE SPECIFIC order, passed on from the Communists' International representative who speaks for Moscow in the U.S., reads in part:

"The (Communists) central task consists in influencing this mass popular base of the Democratic party. There must not be a single municipal campaign in any major city in this country in which our party does not intervene in time and in such a broad coalition fashion as to help influence the outcome of events."

The FBI has full copies of the political directive which, by the way, explains why the Communists an the Daily Worker have jettisoned their own political parties and are urging support of the New York City Democratic candidate, Robert Wagner, Jr. . .

So successfully did the mobs operate through a network of Eastern unions, they were able to plant one of extortioner Joe Tay's payoff men right in Gen. Eisenhower's presence on election night last November.

This man, a Carpenters Union official was almost at Ike's side—unbeknown to the excited candidate—as the votes were counted.

Then, in the weeks after the election, this character and the crooked network around him, were able to increase their power by pointing to the fact that they were being accepted in the highest political circles of the land.

Afterwards, his band actually held a reception to which President-elect Eisenhower came and was photographed shaking hands with some of Joe Fay's most intimate friends—including those who organized the drive to free the terrorist who ran the AFL's Operating Engineers Union for two decades.

IKE, OF COURSE, didn't know any of these characters from a band of mess sergeants However, since many of them are now being exposed as friends of Fay and men with long records, shouldn't the president of the U. S. search back into his own camp to learn just who set him up as a patsy for this crowd?

Who arranged all this?

In six or eight months there will be another sensational racket-busting probe which will shake the country by exposing the interlocking mob-politico-control of some building trades, laborers and allied unions which skyrocketed the cost of roads, schools, hospitals, munitions arsenals, homes and even atomic production.

The biggest scandal of all is in the scores of millions of dollars over the original budget which these unions and their rackets cost the American public to arm itself against the enemy, at a moment when the Soviets had discovered how to roll out atomic bombs. . .

WE'LL NEED more than a psychiatrist to pull us out of a hole if we continue to play ostrich with the economic situation. There have been hundreds of layoffs in the past two months—in batches of 2,000 to 3,000 each. Now, overlooked by many is the fact that in the past six weeks there has been a drop of some 100,000 factory jobs.

There's been this drop instead of the 300,000 job increase which marked this period in past years. In other words, during the past six or eight weeks, the nation is off some 400,000 jobs.

It's unpleasant to report, but it's better than waiting, doing nothing and then have it hit the nation in the face. Labor and management had better take notice. . .

-:-

FORMER SENATOR Blair Moody is planning to launch a new daily paper in Detroit in the hope that it will also have wide out-of-city circulation. A fund has been raised by a group, headed by Moody, and used for the purchase of the Michigan Rotary Press, Inc. To support this press while Moody organizes the launching of the daily, the CIO Michigan News and the CIO's Auto Union News, directed by Walter Reuther, will be printed by the new company.

Among Moody's supporters are Averell Harriman and Bernard Baruch. . .

Fan of Fame

By Inez Robb

Lives of great men all remind us that most of them left autographs of varying legibility and value to posterity.

INEZ ROBB

A really unique and valuable collection of such autographs, confined to the face of a small parchment and sandalwood fan and scribbled by some of the world's greatest musical geniuses, is soon to go on exhibition for sweet charity's sake.

The autographs of such legendary composers as Johannes Brahms, Charles Gounod, Pietro Mascagni, Jules Massenet, Giuseppe Verdi, Camille Saint-Saens, Peter Tchaikowski, Edward Elgar, Edward Grieg and Anton Rubinstein dot their T's and cross their I's side by side.

SCRAWLED ACROSS the delicate parchment are the signatures of such legendary performers as Enrico Caruso, Leopold Auer, Hans Von Bulow, Leopold Godowski, Ignace Paderewski, both Edouard and Jean De Reszke, Jacques Thibaud and Marcella Sembrich.

Fritz Kreisler, Arturo Toscanini, Mischa Elman, Joseph Hofmann, Pablo Casals and Rudolph Ganz are among the famous musicians still performing who signed the fan long ago.

So long ago, in fact, that pianist Joseph Hofmann, now 76, was an "infant" prodigy of 14 when he wrote his signature near that of the master Brahms. Perhaps it was precocity that enabled young Hofmann to distinguish himself as "Little Joseph Hofmann."

The fan, with its 84 autographs, is now the property of Mme. Louisa Stojowski, concert pianist and widow of Sigismond Stojowski, Polish pianist, composer, teacher and favorite pupil of Paderewski.

Originally, the fan was the property and the autographs the idea of Mme. Stojowski's mother-in-law, Countess Marie Jordan-Stojowski.

THE COUNTESS was a dashing lady with great, liquid black eyes who maintained a musical salon in Paris in the Elegant Eighties and Gay Nineties when her son was studying piano in the French capital.

"I wish I knew the history of all the signatures. But I don't," Mme. Stojowski said regretfully. "I wasn't even born when most of them were inscribed on the fan.

"I do remember, however, my husband telling me how upset his mother was when Brahms insisted that the fan be left with him a few days while he studied and autographed it. By this time, the fan had many autographs and my mother-in-law thought it much too valuable to be left with a hare-brained composer!

"However, the fan, came home intact, not only with Brahms' signature, but with two bars of music just above it."

MME. STOJOWSKI has delightful memories of Paderewski, who was not only her husband's teacher, but their friend and the godfather of their second son. Paderewski, after hearing Mme. Stojowski, then in her 'teens, play in 1913, sent her to Stojowski to study, and felt himself a great matchmaker.

"Paderewski must have signed the fan 40 years ago But he loved his little jokes," Mme. Stojowski said. "And you will notice that after his signature is the date 'March 22, 1945, in the neighborhood of Pekin.' Paderewski died in 1944 and he autographed the fan in Paris."

The fan has been loaned by Mme. Stojowski, who has just returned from a concert tour of England, to the committee of the fan ball, which is given annually at the Plaza Hotel for the Children's Memorial Cancer Fund.

Mme. Stojowski has no idea what the fan is worth Toscanini's signature is up-side down; Van Bulow signed himself "The Decaying Celebrity. But she was refused an offer for it from the Library of Congress.

Official records indicate...

1 CAR DRIVER OUT OF 4 CAN EXPECT STARTING TROUBLE THIS WINTER!

Official records show that about 600,000 Ohio cars failed to start last winter. On this basis, one out of four drivers can expect trouble this winter. But the major causes of this trouble—as revealed by the records—can be anticipated and prevented with Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection, at no extra cost!

Here's how Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection helps you avoid these four major causes of car-starting failure!

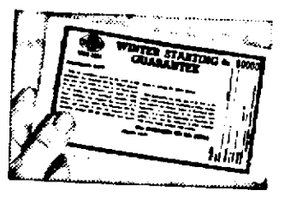
BATTERY:
One of the biggest causes of starting failure is the battery! Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection includes a unique battery-check plan. A Sohio check-up tag attached near your battery assures regular inspection and good condition. There is no charge for this service.

LUBRICANTS:
Gear oil that is too heavy or motor oil that doesn't flow drags your battery down. Guaranteed Starting includes the right weight lubricants in transmission and differential, and free-flowing, sludge-resistant winter grade motor oil in the crankcase.

FROZEN FUEL LINES:
Water condenses out of the air in the gas tank, freezes in gas lines, stops the engine. Sohio Guaranteed Starting Protection includes one free 69¢ bottle of Sohio Super Hi-Cyl, a tested fuel line anti-freeze that gives you positive protection against this major cause of trouble.

GASOLINE:
Gasoline with improper starting and warm-up characteristics can cause the engine to fail to start, or start but stop again. Sohio X-tane and Sohio Supreme gasolines have exactly the right starting and warm-up qualities for Ohio driving!

This protection costs no more than you'd spend anyway —and it's so dependable we back it with this guarantee!



With Sohio's winter protection, you get a written guarantee that your car will start all winter long. If it doesn't, you just call any garage for starting service, mail the receipted bill to Sohio, and Sohio reimburses you for the starting service. It's your assurance of the most thoroughgoing winter starting protection on the market.

Defense Cuts Big Issue

Wilson Will Be Target In Elections for Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson will be in the main target area when the Democrats start blasting the Eisenhower administration in 1954, a congressional election year.

Enough Democrats already have said enough to indicate their party's period of sweetness and light toward the administration, an unnatural condition at best, is about over.

No doubt Sen. Symington of Missouri will be in one of the Democrats' forward positions when the full assault begins. Months ago this former secretary of the Air Force started firing a flock of verbal guided missiles at the administration in general and Wilson in particular.

Symington's main peeve against Wilson has been the five-billion-dollar cut in the Air Force which Wilson piloted through Congress this year. Wilson may have the job of trying to cut defense expenses some more next year too.

Since 1954 is an election year, with control of Congress at stake, the Eisenhower administration would find it handy to have a magic formula for regaling the voters with.

A big tax cut for everyone, individuals and corporations, at the same time expenses reduced to balance the budget; and still enough money spent on defense to keep the country amply protected.

Privately the administration already may have abandoned hope of doing any such thing. defense costs are the biggest part of the budget and cutting them enough to balance it might endanger the country.

Yet, the whole administration will be looking to Wilson to cut defense costs where he can, with safety. Safety is not only a nice word but a vague one.

It's the word which Symington and other Democrats can employ to give Wilson a hard time—when he appears before Congress to explain how much money he needs and doesn't need for defense—with questions like these:

Where does safety stop and danger begin when it is known the Russians are working on the hydrogen bomb? And are Wilson's proposed cuts in defense spending an attempt to economize at the risk of safety?"

When Wilson was president of General Motors he could run things is own way so long as he kept the Board of Directors happy with a yearly report of healthy profits, which he did.

He found as defense secretary his every known move was open to public scrutiny and congressional inquiry, not all of it friendly and some of it hostile.

This week Symington, one of his most constant critics, said "It becomes steadily more apparent that some of the so-called big businessmen brought into Washington to 'straighten things out' have no basic knowledge of or respect for, the system of checks and balances between the executive and legislative branches of our government."

Symington said the administration went back on a pledge by Wilson that no combat planes would be eliminated by a cut in Air Force appropriations, and added:

"What right have those appointed—not elected—government servants to hoodwink the Congress and the people in this manner?"

Wilson himself disclosed yesterday someone in the Eisenhower administration has just saved him from a congressional roar—certainly Democratic and almost certainly Republican—the like of which he never heard before.

He said he was overruled—perhaps by the Budget Bureau or the National Security Council—when he proposed giving to Congress in January a single sentence estimate first and provide details later.

But at the start of every year the administration, with a few exceptions, traditionally has provided Congress with an extremely detailed budget for all its agencies and departments.

In this way not only Congress but the public can see where a department intends spending public funds.

Leonardsburg Church Plans Vestibule, Tower

Plans are under way at the Leonardsburg Methodist Church in Delaware County to build a new vestibule and bell tower and a forthcoming project will be the remodeling of the church's basement kitchen and Sunday school room.

Complete redecoration of the church will not be done until after the vestibule is built, according to Rev. M. Elizabeth King, pastor.

Dedication of the newly remodeled church basement was held recently with Dr S. E. LaFollette district superintendent of the Mansfield District of the Methodist Church, presiding.

The service culminated more than three years of labor of construction, and debt clearance by the congregation which numbers under 40.

The debt was cleared by way of a community farm which was rented for two years by members of the church and volunteers from the community. Proceeds went to the building committee. In September the sanctuary floors were re-done and carpet was laid in the aisles.

Class Members Write Letters

Harding High Students Urge Voters To Visit Polls

As a part of a get out the vote campaign of Harding High School's senior American government class, letters were written by class members urging citizens to visit polling places Nov 3. The following were selected for publication in The Star.

The letters were chosen by a committee composed of five seniors, one elected from each of the five citizenship classes. The same committee set up the project activities and point values, which will determine the grade earned by citizenship class students. Miss Edith Brown is class teacher.

Among the other activities included in the schedule were the handing out of invitations to attend a citizen's meeting in preparation for the Nov 3 election, a voters poll to determine what percentage of Marion voters will turn out at the polls; candidate interviews; attendance at the Thursday night citizens meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters, baby sitting project so that Marion voters with small children can get to the polls poll visitation on election day; and a visit to the city's elementary schools on Nov 2 to get the children to persuade their parents to vote

TO ALL GOOD CITIZENS,

The approaching election seems to have aroused very little interest among the eligible voters of Marion Although admittedly the election is of no direct national importance, it is, like every local election, of significance to you, the citizens of Marion

It is a shame that the eligible voters do not have the same desire to take an active part in the government as the students of Marion's secondary schools An election is the principal way in which the ordinary person can have his say in our democratic form of government. If this privilege is neglected as is seemingly being done more and more, there is no limit to the consequences that could follow So for the good of yourself, Marion, and the United States I urge every one of you to vote in the coming election.

Bob Hamor
Senior, Marion Harding

TO THE CITIZENS OF MARION,

Elections will soon be here and that means it's your chance to help advance Marion in these modern times

As you may know, the city charter Marion possesses was granted to us in 1903 by the State Legislature At that time it met all our needs.

That was 50 years ago Times have changed But has our charter changed appropriately Not enough! To amend our charter we must go to the State Legislature. This takes time.

We need a charter written by the citizens of Marion—a charter that fits our needs and can be changed as Marion changes So back your city government and vote!

Onda Lee Minshall
Senior, Marion Harding

TO THE PEOPLE OF MARION

Do you realize that next month you get to make use of your privilege of voting (That's on Nov 3, now don't forget!)

Do you realize that 55 per cent of all cities of Marion's population enjoy the benefits of a Home Rule Charter type of city government

Do you know that a majority of those people voting is needed if a Commission is to be set up to frame that same sort of Charter for Marion"

If you don t know the answers to these questions it's about time you looked into the matter. This subject of Home Rule will affect your future as well as that of your children, grandchildren and if you're lucky, your great-grandchildren

Take your neighbor to the polls with you and remember If you want a say-so in your city government, say so by getting out to vote on Nov 3

Wanda Van Sickle
Senior, Marion Harding

TO THE VOTERS OF MARION,

The senior American Government classes at Harding High are conducting a poll of the voters of Marion. The purpose is to find out what percentage of Marion voters are going to turn out for the November election

I have just started my poll and 22 per cent of the voters I have interviewed are not going to vote

Do the citizens of Marion realize that the right to vote freely is the essence of democracy? For this right men have fought and been persecuted for centuries

Though we are not old enough to vote, we can urge the voters of our community to use this privilege of American citizenship. Voting may be compared to a muscle in the human body, if it is not constantly exercised it will become lost entirely

As future voters of this country we ask the citizens of Marion please to help preserve this privilege handed down to them, so that when we become of age we too can use this right of an American citizen

Sue Coffey
Senior, Marion Harding

DEAR CITIZENS OF MARION,

Are you a citizen or are you a bystander? That is a question which only you yourself can answer

Are you planning to vote Nov 3? If so have you made yourselves familiar with some of the issues which will be placed before you? Take for instance the Home Rule Charter. What do you as a citizen of Marion know about it?

Briefly, I will try to tell you what I know about the Home Rule Charter. The charter is a written form which gives us the right to raise and spend our money, the right to determine what services we want from our government and to furnish those services for ourselves and the right to select our own public personnel The charter is now fifty years old and has outdated itself Marion is a growing community as you well can see by the new Marion Harding High School, YMCA and the beautiful new hospital. Is this charter sufficient for Marion's ever growing city and population?

Will a charter that satisfied Marion fifty years ago satisfy us today? I hardly think so! We must have a charter which is up to date with Marion and its citizens. Of course since I am unable to vote I can only present my views to you, then it's up to you, the voters

Rosemary Baxter
Senior, Marion Harding

TO THE VOTERS OF MARION,

As you know, you are given the privilege to vote in November It is your privilege to help see that the best man gets into office

Another thing of great importance to be voted upon at this election is whether or not we should have a Home Rule Charter As you should know, the one that we operate under now was given to us by the State Legislature 50 years ago, and since that time our population has grown and our city has been built up quite a bit.

Just think of your own family budget As your family increased and began to grow up you had to change your budget considerably in order to fit your family right then and not for the time when you first married

Now don t you think it would be a good idea to look into the situation of our city government and investigate why it would be a good idea to change and why we need a better plan of government?

If the vote is "Yes" and we should have Home Rule Charter members of our own city will be the ones to draw it up to fit our city only and not one that would fit one the size of Cleveland or Columbus.

Won't you take an interest in our city government and set good examples for us as high school students to follow in the future years?

Meet us on Nov 3 as we visit the polls and show us that you are interested

Gertrude Thomas
Senior, Marion Harding

All-American Fowl

November Month for Turkey Gobblers

By ALAN DEVOE
(Condensed from November Reader's Digest; from Audubon magazine)

NEW YORK (NANA) — When we sit down to our Thanksgiving dinner, all of us are aware that we are joining ourselves to American history. We think of Captain Miles Standish, of Roger Williams, of Father Marquette kneeling in the wilderness, blessing a campfire feast of wild turkey.

But there is more history in this delicious rite than most of us realize. For, although the turkey was enjoyed by the Pilgrims, it was not discovered by them. More than a century before the landing on Plymouth Rock, Spanish valiants arriving in Mexico found the bird. And they found it domesticated. For untold ages the Aztec Indians had been primitive turkey farmers. Emperor Montezuma featured turkey at his banquets.

The Spaniards took some home with them and by 1530 turkeys were established throughout Spain. Within less than a century they were popular all over Europe. So the hardy travelers on the Mayflower must have been familiar with them at home. Nothing in the settlers' experience had prepared them, however, for the immense size of the wild turkeys they found, nor for their dramatic colors and amazing numbers.

THE DOMESTICATED Mexican turkeys were smallish birds; in 16th Century Europe they were classified as guinea fowl. The North American wild turkey was —and is—a huge and magnificent bird, our biggest game bird. Its body is almost four feet long, its wingspread five, glinting in coppery iridescence. "He can runne as fast as a dogge, and flye as well as a goose," wrote an awed William Wood from Massachusetts about 1630.

In Pilgrim days wild turkeys thronged the virgin country from the Atlantic Coast to the Dakotas, from Canada to the Gulf. Pioneers found the great birds friendly and unsuspicious. Turkeys gobbled and strutted inquiringly about frontier settlements, sometimes mixed in winter with domestic birds in the pioneers' clearings and came trooping through backwoods hamlets in droves of up to two or three hundred.

With the spread of settlements and steady hunting, they were all but extinct throughout New England by 1842. But today wild turkeys are locally abundant in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Florida, Virginia, the Carolinas and Louisiana; there are a few in some adjacent states.

What song is to a male songbird, gobbling is to a male turkey: he uses it in mating time to claim a territory. In February or early March the gobbler clucks and whoops defiant land claims until he has staked out a territory of anywhere from 100 to 300 acres.

THE MATING SEASON is a time of terrific gobbler fights. And an imperious old gobbler, with his wings spread, neck out, spurred legs flying, is not to be taken lightly. (A fighting turkey cock has been known to drive his spur nearly an inch into an oak board.)

Thought the gobbler's spirit is one of lordly polygamy, the hen turkeys remain faithful to him. They roam the woods and thickets together, feeding on wild fruits, berries, nuts and insects. The honey-moon lasts until mid-March or April, when it is time to raise the family. Then the imperious gobbler is off. He wants nothing to do with domesticity. Between broods the gobblers ignore their females completely.

Turkeys have a gift for being, as Audubon said, "Wonderfully canny." When they find a rattlesnake, for instance, they promptly form a big circle. Drawing in, tighter, tighter, wing to wing, they take turns darting in, thrusting, pecking, stamping, until their enemy has been dispatched.

When a wise old gobbler has to deal with a marksman waiting for a chance to draw a good bead, he's likely to resort to a beeline trick that's hard to beat. Stepping behind a tree or a boulder, he will suddenly run as hard as he can in an incredibly straight line, keeping the big obstacle all the while in the watcher's line of vision. By the time the enemy has begun to wonder why the turkey is dawdling so long behind that tree or rock, the gobbler is well on his way to the next county.

TURKEYS FLY only when they must. It's hard for them to get their heavy bodies into a take-off in a hurry. The turkey trot isn't just a phrase. The long-legged birds can slog along, mile after mile, day after day, like tireless infantrymen.

State game commissions have put into effect broad conservation programs. Virginia today has an estimated 12,000 wild turkeys, and delighted sportsmen, with good conscience, enjoy a take of about 1,600 birds a year. In Pennsylvania the wild turkey has expanded its range from only about 2,000,000 acres to well over 15,000,000, and the annual take averages 9,000. The wild turkey hasn't gone, and isn't going.

ROCKIN' CHAIR'S GOT 'EM

STOUGHTON, Wis. (UP) — Taking it easy on the job is the order of the day for employes of a local clothing company. The 75 employees must lean forward and then back as they sew, so the firm tried out a rocking chair as a test. It worked so fine that production went up 20 per cent, and all employes now are equipped with rocking chairs.

Air Academy Okay Sought By Air Force

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Air Force is ready to set up a West Point of the air as soon as Congress says yes.

There is even a possibility it may not be necessary to await congressional authorization before starting an experimental air academy on a small scale.

These possibilities were discussed at a briefing by Lt. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, commanding general of the Air University, for visiting aviation writers.

The university, at nearby Maxwell Air Force Base, is not an academy, but a military graduate school for officers.

Kuter said officers on the Air University staff "hope that legislation now before Congress to establish an air academy will pass."

"We would expect to provide much of the staff for such an academy," he said. "We have drafted a curriculum and other details, and are ready to put them into operation."

Brig. Gen. Dale Smith, the Air University's director of education, added that plans are to enroll 250 students in the first class, "and we are prepared to start with the freshman class at any time"

A bill now before Congress, sponsored by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) and supported by the Defense Department, would authorize an air academy of 2,500 students, an enrollment equal to that of the military academy at West Point.

The bill also would authorize establishment of a smaller interim academy. It is such a temporary academy which some experts believe the Air Force already has the authority to set up.

SEAT MURDER JURY

Air Concern at Conference

Fate of United Nations Worries Church Heads

CLEVELAND (AP)—Church leaders today made it plain they're worried about the fate of the United Nations.

Speaker after speaker at an interdenominational conference rose to decry anti-UN activity in the country and to declare their confidence in the world organization.

The UN, said Dr. Richard M. Fagley, New York Congregationalist, is "threatened by a jungle of dashing nationalism, social systems and power blocs."

Mrs. Edith Simpson, Chicago Episcopalian, said, "The future of the United Nations is at stake. The UN deserves the full support of the churches we represent."

Such sentiments were echoed repeatedly as 400 clergymen and laymen, representing 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations, sought to put world questions to the test of Christian doctrine.

Last night, opening night of the four-day meeting, 2,000 persons joined conference delegates in listening to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt praise United Nations achievements and defend its cost.

She said the danger that another war probably would bring extinction to most of the earth's people had provided a "tremendous incentive" to make the UN work, and added:

"We are paying a great deal less for this first effort at insurance to promote the possibilities of a peaceful world than we would pay for a new war."

Because of the big share of UN cost paid by this country, it is a "natural feeling to have misgivings," she said, but few people have taken the trouble to find out Americans are getting more than their money's worth.

The children's fund and the UN health organization have saved "thousands of lives," the technical assistance program is building new world markets vital to our economic future, and the effectiveness of UN collective security has been shown in the Korean War, Mrs. Roosevelt said.

The delegates last night also heard an Eisenhower administration official take issue with what he called the "small minority of Americans" who oppose the UN.

"I can understand the feeling of those who seek to protect our basic liberties," said Asst. Secretary of State Thruston B. Morton. "But I do not see that the United Nations an organization of sovereign states, is any threat."

Green Camp Lions Plan Village Halloween Party

The Green Camp Lions Club will sponsor a Halloween party on the streets of the village Saturday night. Cicero L. Diehl has been named general chairman of the affair.

Awards will be presented to those masked in different age groups and in different categories.

The board of directors changed the meeting night of the club to the second and fourth Tuesdays instead of Thursdays, due to conflict with lodge activities. The board will meet following the last dinner meeting of each month.

Arrangements are being made for the club to participate in the sale of tickets to some of the basketball games scheduled by the Green Camp Elevator with outside teams played on the new gymnasium floor at the school.

The people of Greenland only recently adopted a money economy, having previously lived through the barter of goods.

Church Speakers Here Will Include Two Missionaries

Rev. Carl Volstad, missionary to Chile, South America, will be the speaker the first two nights of a missionary convention in Marion at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church beginning Thursday. On Saturday night the speaker will be Miss M. M. Stine, a missionary from Indonesia. The services each night will be at 7:45 p.m., the pastor, Rev. Jesse Bair, announced. On Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. worship hour the preacher will be Rev. A. C. Miller, son of Bertha Beach O., assistant district superintendent of the denomination. Miss Shuneman will be heard at the Sunday School hour.

In Chile since 1928, Rev. Volstad has worked in Temuco City at the Bible Training Institute and Spanish Alliance Press. As superintendent of the mission there he was overseer of 40 churches and 120 congregations under development in the mountain areas in particular. During his term of service he conducted services on Sunday, Sunday School work and training of young people for evangelism work. The Chile Alliance Churches sponsored union evangelistic efforts under Youth for Christ auspices including a campaign at the stadium in Santiago, the capital. Rev. Volstad shows slide views of mission work with his message.

DIES IN CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI (AP)—Msgr. Matthias F. Hoeker, 58, rector of the Holy Spirit Church at the Fenwick Club, died last night after a week's illness. The Roman Catholic clergyman, born in Covington, Ky., was pastor at Sacred Heart Church, Dayton, Ohio, during the 1940s.

Although only a small percentage of the people of India speak English, that language is used for higher education in the nation.

By John Crosby

Humility Is a Dangerous Thing

Of all the rich beautiful malarkey that spilled forth over the departure of a singer and a band leader from the domain — there seems to be no other word for it — of Arthur Godfrey the most nourishing was Al Jolson's lecture on humility. Humility flourishes on the Godfrey show like undergrowth in the jungle and when under the white heat of the lights it withers and dies, Arthur gets unhappy.

J. CROSBY

Julius La Rosa had lost his humility, said Godfrey mournfully. Archie Bleyer lost his humility, too, he added. "I don't know if he gets it back. I'll know by the expression on his face." As this is written there is no indication that Mr. Bleyer plans to rearrange his face to suit Mr. Godfrey.

A statement like that is hardly calculated to bring out the humility in a man's face anyhow. The response is more likely to be the other way around: the expression on the victim's face is likely to assume an imperious hauteur totally unsuitable for a member of all the little Godfreys.

I HAD NO IDEA — and I'm sure you didn't either—that Godfrey was such an expert on humility. In fact of all the people in the world I'd pick as being least aware of the meaning of humility Godfrey is way up at the top of the list, jostling Jackie Gleason and Milton Berle. Humility is defined in my dictionary as lowliness, meekness, modesty, mildness—all qualities which Godfrey of course exemplifies.

Humility vet, said my friend Mitch the bartender, awed. They got everything on that show—singers and dancers and jokes and Mr. Godfrey scratching his left ear. Now they got humility, too. What else can a man ask of a performer except maybe some talent and, after all, you can't expect everything?"

"He plays a hell of a ukelele," I pointed out.

"With humility yet," declared Mitch enthusiastically. "Ain't just anyone can play a uke with humility. In fact, now that I bring it up, I don't think I know any other humble ukelele players.

They're a proud lot, them uke players."

AT THE HEIGHT of the storm I tuned in Mr. Godfrey to listen to some humble ukelele playing on "Arthur Godfrey and His Friends." The guest man was apparently smarting from his wounds. The theme was friendship and Mr. Godfrey beat it like a gong.

He introduced Frank Parker and Marion Marlowe as "two of the sweetest people you ever knew." Then he introduced the Mariners as "four of the grandest guys you'll ever know." Presently along came the McGuire sisters who were "three of the loveliest girls I've ever known."

Then he got all choked up about what great people all these great people were and made a speech. "I pick my people for this show for a certain wonderful quality that you see in these faces." He loved to have them in his home, he said, and was fairly confident he'd like to have them in yours. "Those who are the great ones are the ones who stay with me—and I'm very proud of the McGuire sisters." (Who haven't been with him very long.)

IT WAS A FINE speech. Loyalty and all that sort of thing, you know. Until you remember that no one has exactly deserted Godfrey. La Rosa and Bleyer — and before them Bill Lawrence and quite a few others—have been fired. They'd all have liked to have stayed with Godfrey and been among "the great ones," too, but they got tossed out on their ears.

For lack of humility whose anonym—again referring to the dictionary—is arrogance. Gee, I can remember way back when Fred Allen called Godfrey "the Hack Finn of radio" when—I found myself writing way back in 1946—his show was as shapeless as a scrambled egg, as informal as a naked child. In those days, he was (I wrote) like a small boy roaming down a dusty road with nothing on his mind but the joy of living.

But that was long ago, before all that humility crept into the act.

Vocational Group Elects Harding Youth to Office

Tom Fields, senior at Harding High School, was elected vice president of the northwest district of Ohio Vocational Industry Clubs at a conference held recently in Columbus. Fields is the first Marion boy ever to hold a state office in the group.

Thirty-seven clubs were represented at the conference where plans were made for the spring convention. The clubs decided on two contests extemporaneous speaking and job interviewing. Plans were made to request services of the personnel directors to judge the participants in the contests.

Attending the meeting from Marion-Harding were Fields, Russel Beachum, Edward Beers, Don Eaton, Gerald Bowers and Ronald Meddles. The group was accompanied by Earl Lasko, supervisor of trades and industries at Harding, and Charles Nichols, Vocational Industrial Club of Ohio for his services as an advisor.

Harding, St. Mary Favored To Win in Road Clashes

Presidents, Ashland Meet For Erie Railroad Trophy

Harding will go into its game tomorrow night at Ashland as overwhelming favorites to notch their sixth win of the campaign against a single loss.

The host Arrows will carry a record of one win, one tie and four losses into the tussle. Their latest whipping was a 37-0 drubbing handed out last week by Wooster. Only a week prior to that game, the Arrows notched their first win against the same Wooster team by a 13-7 count. The teams played two games this season due to a home and home agreement and a scheduling mixup last year.

Other Ashland losses were to Shelby 26-6, Berea 6-0 and Garfield Heights 12-7. The tie was a 7-7 struggle with Mansfield Madison's Rams.

The squads will be fighting for possession of the Erie Railroad trophy, presented recently to create more interest in the rivalry between the schools. The trophy is in the form of a large steam locomotive bell which will go each year to the winner of the game.

A special train has been arranged by the Harding Boosters Club and some 400 Marion fans will make the trip. The Prexy squad came through last week's 27-0 verdict at Findlay with no serious injuries and will again be at full strength.

Coach Harry Miller, in his first year at the Ashland helm, has been dogged by injuries all season. Two of his first stringers were shelved early in the season. Joe Sharr, a halfback, fractured a collarbone and Duane Thompson, a tackle, has been sidelined with a foot infection.

Miller's main worry from week to week has been in fielding 11 men. Barring any injuries late this week, he probably will start the same team he used last week against Wooster.

That would be Phil Crouse, 165-pounder, and John Harpster, 155, at the ends; Jack Ebert, 205, and Stan Rickel, 220, at tackles; Stan McBride, 165, and Larry Wattzler, 150, at the guards; and 180-pound Duane Sackett at center. At quarterback will be Dave Goodale, 155, while his halfbacks will be Dave Lersch, 185, and Harold Simmons, 175, or Fred Hitchcock, 142. Roger Wissler, 190 is the regular fullback. Hitchcock is a converted end. He played his last game as a back last week and turned in a creditable performance.

On defense, the Arrows will make only minor changes. Dave Sharrock and Leroy Stauffer take over the tackle spots with other linemen shifting around.

The Arrows run their attack from a single wing and stick mainly to the ground. Their passing is described as ordinary but Grindle is showing signs of finding the range. He has been overthrowing all season and hasn't as yet hit his stride. The team has relied mainly on its ground game and runs most of its plays between the tackles.

Cross Country Runners Take Sixth Victory

Harding High School's cross country runners notched their sixth win of the season here yesterday, downing a tough Worthington squad 23-32. The victory margin was the same by which the visitors nipped Harding in an earlier meet.

Although the race was run in a light drizzle, Worthington's Jack Blackburn was not hampered. He toured the two-mile course in a blistering 10:10. His mark sets a new course record and betters the new mark set only last week by Columbus West's Ralph Wheaton. He had completed the run in 10:28.

Co-captain Gene Monroe came in second for Coach Ken Somerlot's charges. He ended the run in 10:35.5 while Co-captain Hugh Kinnamon was third with 10:47.

Ben Dozier, Allen Green and Dick Bolinger took fifth, sixth and seventh for Harding to round out the scoring. Al Hopkins, Dallas Foos, Dick Mull and Tim Thomas qualified to round out the top nine men and will make the trip Saturday to Toledo for competition in the Northwest District meet.

It will mark the first appearance of the Harding team in the Northwest meet. Last year, Harding was a member of the Central District and won the title in its drive to a state championship crown. Harding shifted from the Central to the Northwest District this year and also will be playing in the Northwest District basketball tournament this winter.

Results: Blackburn (W) 10:10; Monroe (H), 10:35.5; Kinnamon (H), 10:47; Morgan (W), 10:48.5; Dozier (H), 11:01; Green (H), 11:14; Bolinger (H), 11:18; Russel (W), 11:25; German (W), 11:27; Ream (W), 11:37; Pelkey (W), 11:38; Hopkins (H), 11:40; Foos (H), 11:41; Mull (H), 11:42; Thomas (H), 11:44; Ward (H), 11:50.5; Metz (H), 11:53; Williams (H), 11:54; Rutherford (H), 11:58; Huntsman (H), 12:01; Muck (W), 12:05; Fogel (H), 12:15; Jermans (W), 12:17; Dutton (H), 12:20; Rice (W), 12:21; Woods (W), 12:21; Kuelber (H), 12:29; Arnold (H), 12:35; Booker (H), 12:36; Smith (H), 12:37; Wert (H), 12:37; Stinchcomb (W), 12:37; Kinkaid (H), 12:42; Pryor (H), 12:44; Schwab (W), 12:47; Mores (H), 12:48; Condron (H), 12:53; Jacobs (W), 12:55.

Tom Fool Ends Racing Career

NEW YORK (AP)—The great racing career of Tom Fool was behind him today, and now the question is whether he'll be voted the No. 1 horse of 1953 over the spectacular grey 5-year-old champion Native Dancer.

John Hay (Jock) Whitney and his sister, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson of the Greentree Stable, announced suddenly yesterday that Tom Fool would skip the $75,000 Empire Gold Cup Saturday at Jamaica. The 4-year-old son of Menow-Gaga will be sent to the Greentree Farm at Lexington, Ky., next month to enter the stud.

Tom Fool, unbeaten in 10 races this year, will go down in the record books as one of the great horses developed in this country. The sports world had anticipated a meeting between Mister Tom and the Dancer in the Woodbine Mile at Belmont in September and the Pimlico Special at Baltimore last Saturday.

Kenton Meets Celina In Homecoming Battle

KENTON — Miss Serena Sams, 17-year-old Kenton High School senior, will reign over the homecoming game between George Keel's Kenton Wildcats and Celina here Friday.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sams of near Kenton. Her attendants are Dorothy Stemen, senior; Dana Daniels, junior; Vonne Anderson, sophomore, and Joyce Blumenschine, freshman.

The queen and her court will be presented to the crowd in a brief pre-game ceremony. Later, during the annual homecoming dance in the school gymnasium, Miss Sams will be crowned queen by the 1952 Homecoming Queen, Miss Faith Blumenschine, a sister of the freshman attendant.

Upper Sandusky Ends Home Grid Play Friday

UPPER SANDUSKY — The final home game of the season for the Upper Sandusky High School Rams will bring the Norwalk Truckers here Friday night. The Rams have won three and lost two in Northern Ohio League play. The Truckers have won two, lost one and tied one.

Tied with Willard for third place in the NOL standings, the Rams must win from Norwalk and over Galion next week to hold their position. First place Shelby will play Crestline this week and Norwalk next, and is expected to finish undefeated.

Bellevue in second place with one loss, to Shelby, is also expected to win its remaining games with Willard and Galion. The Upper Sandusky-Norwalk rivalry dates back only to 1946, the year the NOL was organized. The Rams have won five times including the 13-6 battle there last year. Norwalk has won twice.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

After a week of upsets, The Star's panel of football forecasters comes back for more. Glassy eyed but still standing, the panelists are shaking off the effects of its worst week of the season last week.

SHORT

The Star sports department, Huber and Short, topped the list with identical marks of 10 correct picks and three wrong. Bill Diem hit on 9 of the 13 while the usually reliable Bill Stanbro, turning his back on Harding and St. Mary, tumbled to a 7-6 mark. Last week's guest, Tony Rizzo, had six right and seven wrong.

With the exception of one panelist Harding is picked this week over Ashland. Stanbro, apparently still unconvinced, goes along with Ashland. St. Mary is the pick of all four to whip Carey. Richwood is a unanimous choice to bounce back from its loss to St. Mary while Waldo's six-man team has gained the support of the panel after its surprise win over Chesterville.

Russell Brady, manager of the lunch counter and fountain at Gallaher's Drug Store, is our guest for the week. He took a break from his grill to try his hand at picking the winners for the area and goes with both local squads.

Fourteen area games, part of them scheduled for Thursday and part for Friday night, are on the list this week. The games include Harding at Ashland, St. Mary at Carey, Shelby at Crestline, Mt Gilead at Richwood, Utica at Elm Valley, Grove City at Marysville, Cardington at Fredericktown, Celina at Kenton, Bucyrus at Bellevue, Galion at Willard, Norwalk at Upper Sandusky, Waldo at Sparta, Marengo and Caledonia playing at Claridon and Chesterville at LaRue.

RUSS BRADY. Harding, St. Mary, Shelby, Richwood, Utica, Marysville, Fredericktown, Kenton, Bellevue, Galion, Upper Sandusky, Waldo, Caledonia and LaRue.

BILL DIEM. Harding, St. Mary, Shelby, Richwood, Elm Valley, Marysville, Cardington, Kenton, Bucyrus, Willard, Upper Sandusky, Waldo, Caledonia and LaRue.

BILL STANBRO. Ashland, St. Mary, Shelby, Richwood, Elm Valley, Grove City, Fredericktown, Celina, Bellevue, Willard, Upper Sandusky, Waldo, Caledonia and LaRue.

MIKE HUBER. Harding, St. Mary, Shelby, Richwood, Elm Valley, Marysville, Fredericktown, Kenton, Bellevue, Willard, Upper Sandusky, Waldo, Caledonia and LaRue.

OSU Keeps Eye On Tad Weed's Kicking Foot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If Saturday's football game between Northwestern and Ohio State follows precedent, a little guy with a giant's wallop in his left foot may make the big difference.

This Big Ten tilt is traditionally a kickers' battle and Ohio State has one of the best in the conference—Thurlow (Tad) Weed—5-feet-5 and 136 pounds, "soakin' wet."

The 20-year-old junior from Columbus hasn't had much of an opportunity to show his stuff this year.

But last season Tad saw a total of four minutes of action and scored 29 points—23 of 26 conversion attempts and two field goals.

In the 30 contests between the Wildcats and the Buckeyes, five have been decided by a kick of one kind or another. Place-kicks settled the issue in four of the last eight games.

The Buckeyes won four of the squeakers. The Wildcats only success that way was in 1936 when they kicked both extra points to win 14-13.

A highlight of the series was in 1945, when Ohio's Max Schnittker swapped the goat's horns for a branch of laurel by blasting a fourth period field goal for a 16-14 win after muffing a conversion try.

The 1947 game was another close one. The Bucks won that virtually after the game was over.

Northwestern was ahead 6-0 when the pistol sounded. But a penalty gave Ohio a post-game play. Pardel Sayle passed to Jimmy Clark to tie the score. Emil Moldea booted for the conversion—and missed.

Another penalty, however, gave him a second chance. This time he cleared the uprights.

A field goal by Vic Janowicz provided the margin as Ohio won, 3-0, over Northwestern in 1951. It was Weed, himself, who won it last year. Tad's field goal capped a fourth-period rally and the Bucks went home ahead 24-21.

Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes predicts the 1953 game will go down to the wire, too. Ohio has a 3-1 record (2-1 in the conference). Northwestern has won 3 and lost 2.

Gophers, Pitt Meet in Video Gridiron Scrap

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Devotees of hack-and-hammer football will get a full serving Saturday when Pittsburgh runs into Minnesota and Paul Giel in the week's nationally televised game.

The old-time power stuff with which the two teams bruised opponents back in the 1930s comes wrapped in a new bundle but the slam-bang pattern is still pretty much the same.

Minnesota, running from a variety of formations, grinds off the tackles with mass blocking and unbalances its line to get maximum push on short yardage plays.

The Gophers' main departure from the old power system is linked directly to the assorted football gifts of All America Giel. Minnesota's most consistent ground gainer is the option pass play. In the case of Minnesota opponents, the option presents an unhappy prospect.

Giel is hitting on over 50 per cent of his passes, and when they try to toughen the pass defense, Giel cuts losse with a stop-and-go open-field style which has frustrated tacklers for three years.

Pittsburgh, without a backfield ace like Giel to trigger its attack has relied on straight-ahead power for most of its yardage. Fullback Bobby Epps, who carries 195 pounds on a 5-foot-8 frame, has produced most of the punch.

Pitt has lacked a first-rate passing quarterback to give its T attack versatility. Henry Ford, a superb defensive player and a good runner, hasn't caused the Panther opponents much trouble through the air.

Caledonia Shooters Nip Motor Products Team

The Caledonia Gun Club defeated the Marion Industries team Sunday in a trapshoot held at the Hinton Gun Club north of Marion. The score was 223-187.

A trophy was awarded the winning team and individual trophies went to the high point man for each club. Members of the Caledonia club and their scores were: R. Ross, 43; N. Underwood, 43; J. Caldwell, 43; C. Miller, 42; and F. Reed, 42.

Shooting for the losers were: H. Weiss, 42; J. Phelps, 39; B. Shaw, 37; W. Martin, 36; and J. Dean, 33.

Meet Troy

Barons Play Tonight After 5-3 Defeat at Milwaukee

Marion's Barons return home tonight for a meeting with the Troy Bruins in an International Hockey League game. The Barons were edged 5-3 last night at Milwaukee.

Last night's win by the Chiefs marked their second straight and allowed them to climb past Fort Wayne in the standings. The loss gave the Barons a record of three wins and three losses. They have lost both their road games.

Dave Whalen was the villian as far as the Marion club was concerned last night. The big Milwaukee forward hit for the winning point in the closing minutes of the last period.

The Barons had taken a 1-0 lead early in the first period but the home team knotted the count just before the end of the period. The winners countered two goals in the second period before the Barons scored again.

The teams exchanged goals in the final period before Whalen hit for the winners. The game was played before 1,938 fans.

Tonight's game is scheduled for 8:30. The Bruins, tabbed as one of the league's top teams, will be making their first appearance at the Coliseum rink. In the only other game scheduled tonight, league ville, current cellar dweller.

LaRue Players Seek Clincher In Double M

LaRue, all alone at the top of the Double-M Six-Man Football League for the first time in several weeks, attempts to clinch no worse than a tie for the league championship Thursday night.

The undefeated Indians entertain Chesterville. The visitors are tied with Claridon for second spot after a surprise 31-25 loss to Waldo last week.

Another important game sends Claridon to Johnsville. The invaders will be out to keep their slim championship hopes alive with a win over the Johnsville crew. A winless Sparta crew provided another upset last week when it dropped Johnsville 27-12, giving it its second league loss.

The two upsetters of last week, Waldo and Sparta, get together at the Centerburg field. It marks Sparta's homecoming. The queen is Geneva Hilton and her court consists of Shirley Lehman, senior; Donna Vian, junior, Jeanette Belcher, sophomore; and Loretta Rummel, freshman. Sparta's band will entertain at halftime. Both squads will be after their second league wins.

Marengo, tied with Sparta, Caledonia and Waldo for the cellar spot, meets Caledonia on the ing league match. Both clubs will be attempting to avoid the plunge into last place.

Thursday's session, the seventh of the season, will mark the next-to-last week in Double-M play. Next Friday, Nov. 6, will find Claridon at LaRue, Sparta at Caledonia, Chesterville at Johnsville and Marengo at Waldo completing their league schedules.

Oakland Signs Dressen To Three-Year Contract

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Chuck Dressen has that three-year contract he couldn't get from Brooklyn. He signed yesterday with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League as both manager and general manager.

He indicated his pay will be $32,500. Plus attendance bonuses, it will bring him about $40,000 a year.

BIG PIKE CAUGHT

TORONTO (AP)—Pike are being caught in waters that didn't exist a few years ago. The new waters, extensions to old lakes, have been created by various hydro-electric developments. Great areas of low level land that had no commercial value now are a happy fishing ground for pike fishermen. The Ontario lands and Forests Department claims that pike are being caught by the bushel in these new lakes and the influx of sportsmen has not diminished the supply. The pike have gained in size and number to such an extent that the bag limit of six per day is reached easily in most northern waters.

Middleweights Clash In Cleveland TV Bout

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rocky Castellani, hoping to boost his chances for a shot at the middleweight title, tonight takes on Mickey Laurent, a would-be spoiler from France, in a televised 10-rounder.

Castellani, who now fights out of Cleveland, has won five times and lost once this year, bringing his lifetime record to 45 wins, five losses and five draws. He wants a crack at the title recently won by Bobo Olson.

Laurent who comes from Montlucon in France, has batted to two draws and a loss since coming to the United States this year. His record shows 29 wins, nine losses and five draws.

Fights Last Night

LOS ANGELES — Rudy Garcia, 120½, Los Angeles, outpointed Al Waldo and Sparta, get together burn Copeland, 125¾, Flint, Mich.

HOUSTON, Tex. — Johnny McCray, 143, Houston, knocked out Johnny Capitano, 140, New Orleans, 3.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Harry Bratlew, 160½, Miami Beach, stopped Bobby Lopez, 158½, Boston, 8.

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Oscar Torres, 110, Los Angeles, outpointed Buddy Bagell, 115, Dallas, 10.

TOKYO — Yoshio Shirai, 110¾, Japan, outpointed Terry Allen, 112, London, 15 (for world's flyweight title).

Irish in Action at Carey, Injuries Plague Blue Devils

An injury-plagued Carey squad will entertain St. Mary Friday night when the Irish attempt to make it six wins in as many starts.

Injuries have been such a nemesis this year to Carey that the Blue Devils, usually a power in area football, have been able to notch only one victory in six games. Last year, Carey wound up the season with a 7-2 win-lose record.

"We never got over our second game," is the way Coach Pearl Atkins explains the Carey plight. In that second game the Blue Devils took a physical beating while bowing to Mansfield Madison 26-6.

Friday night Atkins will be without the services of his stellar right half Dan Dible, his regular center Jack Dotson and his usual right guard Dick Curran. On top of that, his regular ends, Dwight Orians and Dick Dennison although appearing in the starting lineup, will be slowed down with knee and ankle injuries.

In place of Dible, who is out for the season with water on the knee, Atkins isn't sure whether he'll start Carl Sizemore, a 130-pound scatback, or Dick Billock, a converted tackle.

Jake Fletcher will fill in for Dotson at center, but Atkins does not know who will replace Curran at right guard.

The way it shapes up now Atkins will have Orians, 150, and Dennison, 185, at the ends, Jack Twining, 185, and Aden McKinnon, 190 at the tackles, Gene Myers, 135 at guard, and Fletcher, 160, at center.

In the backfield Atkins will use Draper, 160, to call the signals and John Billock, 175, at full. In the halfback slots will be Stanley Plott, 145, and either Sizemore, 130, or Dick Billock, 160.

The same lineup is slated to see both defensive and offensive action.

The Carey line outweighs the Irish forward wall in average weights 168-162.

The one victory to Carey's credit this season came Oct. 9 when Ada was the 34-14 victim. In addition to their loss to Madison, the Devils have dropped games to Oak Harbor 13-12, North Baltimore 18-7, Richwood 13-7, and Bedford, Mich., 38-6.

The only foe the two teams have had in common is Richwood, who fell before the Irish onslaught 35-6 just last Saturday. St. Mary in coming this far unscathed has downed Cardington 27-0, Lima St. Rose 7-0, Mt. Gilead 36-0, Columbus St. Mary 10-0, and Richwood.

Carey shut out St. Mary 12-0 in last year's contest.

Court Refuses Plea on Curly Smart Ouster

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Immediate action on a plea by the U. S. Trotting Assn. to modify a court order prohibiting it from barring harness race driver Wayne (Curly) Smart from member tracks was refused yesterday by Common Pleas Judge William C. Bryant.

Attorneys for the USTA asked the restrainer be changed to allow the USTA to take action against the Delaware, Ohio, driver-trainer should he violate the organization's regulations in the future and to allow the USTA to hold a hearing against him on current charges.

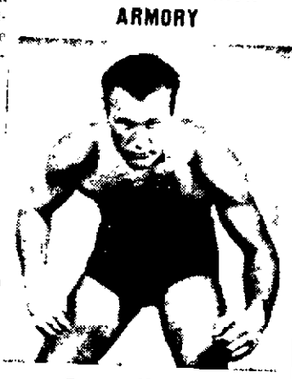
Judge Bryant refused immediate action. Instead, he gave the USTA until Nov. 13 to file briefs and allowed Smart's attorney until Nov. 20 to file answers.

While failure to obtain modification of the restrainer yesterday means Smart cannot be touched by the USTA, he still is under supervision of local and state racing authorities.

The USTA said the New York Racing Commission has set a hearing Nov. 6 for Smart. He is accused of permitting a horse to be given a medicant before a race. He also was suspended in Michigan some weeks ago on a similar charge although he was not at the races on the day of the alleged violation.

Cincinnati's 1953 Redlegs set a club record in homers as early as July 19. On that date Ted Kluszewski hit No. 111 which surpassed the old mark of 110 set by the 1938 team.

"GRUDGE" TAG TEAM AND CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING THURSDAY, MARION ARMORY



Scottie Williams

There should be some "Blood" spilled tomorrow night when Paul Orth and Mr. Satan team up against Joe Cassius and Irish McGee. It's an aftermath of their matches last Thursday in which Orth accused his partner Cassius of hitting him. All four of these wrestlers are rough and the fans know what to expect when these four meet in a 2-out-3-fall no time limit match.

Another 2-out-3-fall no time limit bout will see Billy Fox taking a big chance when he puts up his tri-state gold belt against Scottie Williams, the popular grappler from Independence, Missouri. Williams has held titles in his brilliant career.

First match starts at 8:30, prices $1.00-$1.50. Kids 50 cents.

Call Markert & Lewis for reserved ringside.

Gophers' Paul Giel Named as Back of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Because he has learned to play defense as well as offense, and because he was the key man in one of last Saturday's major upsets Minnesota's Paul Giel was chosen today as the Associated Press back of the week

It was a close contest in the ballots between Giel and Zeke Bratkowski of Georgia, but the Minnesota player got the call for his all-around performance, which included a Big Ten record for ball-handling.

Bratkowski's passing according to observers was "uncanny" and Sports Editor Furman Bisher of the Atlanta Constitution commented 'He means more to his team than any individual in the country" But 'The Brat" was performing against North Carolina, a team with an ordinary record this season, while Giel was the big man in Minnesota's 22-0 decision over nationally ranked Michigan

Giel had 'the greatest day of any athlete in the school's history,' said Charles Johnson veteran Minneapolis Star and Tribune football writer Michigan Coach Bennie Oosterban merely gasped, 'He was wonderful'

The Minnesota Meteor handled the ball 53 times to set a conference record he hit 11 passes before missing one and completed 13 of 18 for 169 yards during the game He rushed for 112 yards, returned kicks for 83 punted and completely befuddled the Michigan defense with his faking

In addition Giel strictly an offensive player up to this season turned in a superb defensive performance which included two leaping interceptions of passes

Other noteworthy performances were turned in by Kosse Johnson Rice fullback Neil Worden Notre Dame fullback Tony Rados Penn State quarterback Harry Speers of Florida and last week's back of the week, Bob Garrett of Stanford

HEADS ORIOLES Art Ehlers a native of Baltimore and general manager of the Philadelphia Athletics was named general manager of the new Baltimore Orioles in the American League

Writer Picks Bucks, Irish To Win Games

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Tricks may run ahead of treats of Midwest gridirons this Hallowe'en Saturday. Here goes a ghostly swami

Notre Dame 21 Navy 7—The anchor still will be dragging for the Middies who should have been blanked by Penn Frank Leahy may or may not be directing his lads personally, but the Irish are rolling Quarterback Ralph Guglielmi is getting better every game

Illinois 21 Purdue 14—The Illini will do it for dear old dad (it's his day) Caroline & Bates Co. got scared enough by Syracuse to work up full steam against the giant-killing Boilermakers Purdue just proved to Michigan State that the Big Ten is a tough circuit to work for a living

Ohio State 21 Northwestern 19—The Buckeyes found against Wisconsin they could do without injured quarterback Johnny Borton. This will be a lively scuffle and Dick Thomas passing will keep the Bucks busy

Missouri 19 Indiana 13—Indiana has been scoring but not enough The Tigers last Saturday thumped Nebraska 23 7 and earlier scored a 14-7 triumph over Indiana's arch-rival, Purdue

Iowa 14 Wisconsin 13 — The Hawkeyes have the line to handle Alan (The Horse) Ameche The Badgers will discover as did Michigan State and Michigan that Iowa is not the usual Iowa team

Michigan 19 Penn 14 — Penn kicks a Paul Giel so the Wolverines can climb up off the floor The Quakers will be a little cheesy after spilling Navy They visit Ann Arbor at a bad time

Minnesota 20 Pitt 14—The Gophers should be warned the Panthers are big and tough They'll make master Giel work for everything he gets

Michigan State 35 Oregon State 0—The Spartans can start on a new winning streak against a team shut out for five straight games until defeating Idaho, 19 0, Saturday

Indians Seek Recovery of Huron County

NORWALK Ohio (AP) — Descendants of the Senecas Hurons Delawares Wyandots Miamis and Chippewas claim their Indian ancestors were cheated in 1795 and they want back Huron County

If they can't have the fertile farm land around Norwalk they want the federal government to put up a little more than the two cents an acre the Indians got 158 years ago at the Treaty of Green Ville

The Indians whose suit at Washington D C was made public yesterday, contend their ancestors were forced to live on western reservations If those ancestors had got the money Huron County is worth they would have been able to buy good land and live better the descendants complain

After the treaty the Indians moved to the northwestern part of the state and by 1817 they had lost all title to lands in Ohio

The suit does not set specific damages the descendants asking that the Indian claims commission fix compensation

In 1950 the commission awarded 32 million dollars to the Indians who said government shapers had done their ancestors out of western lands

Huron County is 12 miles south of Lake Erie and almost due south of Sandusky

Man Arrested, Denies Leaving Accident Scene

Donald E Winebrenner, 30 of 422½ Olney Ave was arrested Tuesday in Marion County Ind. on a warrant signed by James A Smith of 307 Blaine Ave, charging Winebrenner with leaving the scene of an accident

Police said this morning the warrant was sworn out after an accident last Saturday night at W. Center St and Park Blvd involving the cars of the two men. Their reports show Smith's car was struck in the rear by a hit-skip auto

From the license number furnished by Smith, police said they traced the car to Winebrenner, and Smith swore out the warrant In Municipal Court Tuesday, Winebrenner pleaded not guilty and was released on $150 bond No date for his trial has been set

Harry Thompson

Harry Thompson, 78, of 523 S. Prospect St. died at 6 p.m. Tuesday at home. He was ill five years.

Born Jan. 19, 1875, in Union County, he was a son of Calvin and Clistia Sewell Thompson. March 27, 1898, in Prospect, he married Ida M. Gabriel. A resident of Marion four years, he came here from Mansfield where he was a member of the Masonic Lodge. He was a retired lumber inspector.

Surviving are his widow, and children, Mrs. Louise Michel of 517 S. Prospect St., Mrs. Glenn Daugherty of Aurora, Ind., Mrs. Lucille Selander of Columbus, Erwin Thompson of Mansfield, and Mrs. John Mehaffie of Long Beach, Calif., nine grandchildren, and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p.m. in the Schaffner - Denzer Funeral Home on E. Center St. Burial will be at Waldo. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

Stuart Jones, a past member of Marion Lodge 70, F. and A. M., will be in charge of the funeral services for Mansfield Lodge 35 of which Mr. Thompson was a member.

Milton Markey

Milton Markey, 78, of LaRue died at San Antonio Hospital in Kenton Tuesday at 9:05 p.m. He had been ill for two and one-half years.

He was born Nov. 12, 1874 in La-Plata, Mo., to Marshall and Mary Perry Markey. On Oct. 16, 1915, he married Isa Fox who survives.

He was a retired farmer and a member of the Masonic Lodge No. 463 in LaRue. He had lived there for the past 58 years.

He is survived by his wife; one brother, Oren Markey of Fremont; and two sisters, Miss Nora Markey of Marion, and Miss Allie Markey of Yakima, Wash.

Friends may call at the Ford Funeral Home in LaRue after 1 p.m. Thursday. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Charles Otis England

Charles Otis England, 61, of 637 Leader St. died at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday in City Hospital. He was ill two days.

Born Feb. 5, 1892, in Marion, he was a son of Richard Henry England and Olive Sabrina England, natives of Delaware County. During World War I, he served with the U. S. Army Rainbow Division in France. He was a foreman at the National Lime and Stone Co. and worked for the company 26 years.

Surviving are sisters and brother, Mrs. Averie Hutchinson, Mrs. Charles Tillman, Mrs. Edward Eckard, and Auburn England, all of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary on Mt. Vernon Ave. Rev. Clyde Wendell will officiate. Burial will be in Marion Cemetery. Friend may call at the funeral home after 7:30 tonight.

Mary Snyder

GALION — Funeral services for Miss Mary Snyder, 25-year-old telephone operator in Galion, who died at 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, in University Hospital, Columbus, will be held Friday at 10 a.m., at the Volk Funeral Home, here. Rev. Herbert S. Garnes, Jr., pastor of First Lutheran Church, will officiate. Burial will be made in the Letart Cliff Cemetery at Letart Falls, Meigs County, O. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Miss Snyder was employed for the Northern Ohio Telephone Co. here, for the past four years. She was admitted to University hospital about a week ago when her illness, of the preceding two weeks became critical. At that time she was suffering with meningitis, secondary to a brain abscess. On Monday of this week, she suffered a heart attack, and her condition grew steadily worse until surgery was performed Monday night to remove a large brain abscess, in an effort to save her life.

A native of New Philadelphia, Miss Snyder was born Sept. 6, 1928, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Earl Snyder. Her father preceded her in death. She is survived by her stepmother, Mrs. Orin Snyder, instructor at the Grand River Academy at Austinburg, O.; three brothers, Charles Snyder of North Carolina, David Snyder of Wilmington, Del., and John Snyder, serving with the U. S. force in Germany, and a half brother, James, of Austinburg.

She had lived here with her uncle and aunt, Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Snyder, while Rev. Snyder was pastor of the Free Methodist Church. When he was transferred, she continued to live here and made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Denise. She was graduated from Galion High School in 1946, and then attended Rio Grande, O. and Berea, Ky., colleges, later returning to Galion to work.

Harvey H. Connolly

MT. GILEAD — Harvey Harold Connolly, 33, died Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. in Morrow County Hospital here after an illness of six months.

A native of Spencer, W. Va., where he was born April 10, 1920, he had resided here for the past 13 years. He was a veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion and Veteran of Foreign Wars. Before his illness he had been a laborer in the shipping department at the Galion Perfection Steel Body Company.

His marriage to Norma Nolze was on October 13, 1946. She survives with his parents, Fernendo and Myrtle Connolly of near Cardington; a brother, Hobart of Lexington; and a sister, Mrs. Grace Corbett of Cardington. There were no children.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. in the Craven Funeral Home here. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery at Delaware. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Patricia Sickmiller

GALION — Patricia Jayne Sickmiller, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sickmiller of Galion, died at 2:35 a.m. today in Galion City Hospital. She was born there Saturday, the daughter of William Roy and Shirley Iles Sickmiller. Surviving with her parents are her brother, William Roy Sickmiller Jr., and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sickmiller and Mrs. William Iles, all of Galion.

Graveside services were set for 2 p.m. today at Fairview Cemetery in charge of Rev. Norman R. Somerville. The body was taken to the Snyder Funeral Home.

Martin F. Seibel

BUCYRUS — Martin F. Seibel, 91, a former Crawford County teacher and superintendent of the Crawford County Home some time ago, died at 7:15 a.m. today in Bucyrus City Hospital. A week ago today, he suffered a hip fracture when he fell in the yard at his home in Bucyrus, and was admitted to the hospital at that time. He suffered a stroke Saturday.

Born March 4, 1862, in Leesville, he was a son of John and Barbara Shellhause Seibel. March 31, 1885, he married Augusta Ludwig, who died Nov. 16, 1951. A resident of Bucyrus 32 years, he retired 30 years ago after serving 11 years as superintendent of the county home. Previous to that he had taught in the county schools 25 years. He was a member of Woodlawn EUB Church.

Surviving are children, Mrs. Fern Bogan of Bucyrus, Mrs. Fay Flowers of near Crestline, Mrs. Hazel Drexel and Mrs. Doyle Nussbaum, both of Galion, and George Seibel of Bucyrus, six grandchildren, and 13 great grandchildren. A daughter, three brothers, and a sister preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the Wise Funeral Home in Bucyrus. Rev. Fay Bowman will officiate. Burial will be at Leesville. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday night.

Philip Frank

GALION — Philip Frank, 69, died at Galion City Hospital at 11 p.m. Tuesday. He had been admitted to the hospital Oct. 19 after an eight month illness.

A farmer five miles south of Galion, he was the son of the late John and Sophia Armbruster Frank. He was born in Auglaize County Jan. 20, 1884. On Feb. 28, 1936, his wife Nellie Gerstenslager Frank died.

He was member of the First Evangelical and Reformed Church. He is survived by a brother Frank C. Frank of Spencerville, and several nephews, nieces, and cousins.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Snyder Funeral Home in Galion. Rev. R. R. Elliker officiating. Burial will be at Whetstone Cemetery, west of Galion.

Friends may call at the Snyder Funeral Home after 7 p.m. tonight.

Church Board Members Schaeffer Pallbearers

Members of the church board were pallbearers at funeral services Tuesday afternoon at St. Paul's English Lutheran Church for the pastor, Rev. Henry Schaeffer, whose death occurred Friday. The church choir attended the services in a body.

The eight pallbearers included Lester Dickerson, Paul Rudolph, Edward Hoffman, Russell McEvoy, Gus Extrom, Floyd Schaffner, John Davis, and Hilhs Brown.

At the age of 45, most people have trouble reading small print.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed today. Price movements were small with few exceptions.

Business was rather slow and maintained a pace right around yesterday's 1,170,000 shares, which was below average.

Railroads were mostly higher along with coppers and aircrafts. The motors were largely lower as were distillers and motion pictures.

Other divisions were mixed.

Among declining stocks were Chesapeake & Ohio, 20th Century-Fox, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, General Motors, Studebaker, National Distillers, and American Telepone.

Higher were Republic Steel, Douglas Aircraft, Phelps Dodge, American Woolen, Bohn Aluminum New York Central, and Missouri Pacific preferred.

FERGUSON PICKER

This Belle City Picker is a one-man, one-tractor unit for LOW-COST corn picking. It's years ahead of competitor because it has light draft, clean, gentle husking with large husking bed and rubber rolls. All gears are spur type, heat-treated and precision cut. High-speed blower blasts trash from the corn. Your wagon is pulled direct in line behind your tractor eliminating side draft. Priced lower than its actual value.

ANNIE ROONEY — By Darrell McClure

WHAT'S THE MATTER, HONEY? YOU'VE BEEN MOPING AROUND ALL DAY—IS THERE ANYTHING WRONG??
OH, NO, MR. COBB—HONEST, THERE AIN'T—
I GUESS I'VE BEEN KINDA WISHIN' AN' HOPIN' THAT MRS. MODELY WOULD COME BY TODAY— COURSE, SHE DIDN'T SAY SHE WOULD FOR SURE, BUT I CAN'T HELP WISHIN'—
I KNOW WHAT YOU MEAN—ANY DAY SHE DROPS BY IS SUNSHINE AND ROSES, EVEN IF IT'S DARK AND RAINY—ANY DAY SHE DOESN'T COME BY IS JUST SO MUCH WASTE SPACE ON THE CALENDAR—
OH, GOLLY—HERE COMES MRS. MODELY NOW!!
IT IS NOW 2:17 P.M.—IF ANYONE ASKS YOU, TELL 'EM THIS DAY STARTED EXACTLY ONE SECOND AGO!

THEN I'LL SEE YOU AT DINNER, HOLLY!
I-I RECKON SO, MR CANYON
WHY, HOLLEE! I THOUGHT YOU WERE SO —HOW YOU SAY— ON THE GROOVE WITH HIM!
MR CANYON LOOKS AT ME AS IF I WERE JUST GRADUATIN' FROM THE BROWNIE SCOUTS! I MUST DO SOMETHIN' DRAMATIC!
I'VE BEEN SEWING UPON A DRESS IN PRIVATE — BUT I AM PREPARED TO MAKE THE SACRIFICE SUPREME FOR THE SO-DEAR FRIEND AS YOU!

THAT'S HOTSHOT'S JAM, CHOPS—AND WHY I HAD TO FIND YOU IN A HURRY.
HMMM IT JUST HAPPENS THAT I HAVE SOME CONTACTS ON THE MAINLAND WHO COULD COME IN HANDY ON A DEAL LIKE THIS WE'LL NEED SOME OF UNCLE SUGAR'S PRETTY ENGRAVED PAPER, TERRY...
I'M AUTHORIZED TO MAKE ANY FINANCIAL EXPENDITURE DEEMED NECESSARY.
A SWINDLE SHEET! HMMM CONSIDERING THAT I NEARLY COPPED A NOBEL LITERATURE PRIZE FOR FICTION ONCE, THIS ATTACK OF PATRIOTISM I'VE COME DOWN WITH MIGHT NOT BE A TOTAL LOSS AFTER ALL.
